Declaration of Independence

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

WHEN in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.—We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.—He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.—He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless these people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.—He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected: whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.—He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.—He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:—For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:—For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences:—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:—For suspending our own Legislatures and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.—He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated

Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.—

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES: that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.—And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

LOW-INTEREST MORTGAGES AVAILABLE THIS SUMMER

The Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA) announced recently it plans to sell single-family mortgage purchase bonds on or around July 22, 1983, to provide approximately $94 million in low-interest mortgages to an estimated 2,000 first-time Massachusetts homebuyers. The MHFA also announced some revisions in existing eligibility guidelines for the low-interest mortgage funds along with a new application procedure aimed at ensuring the funds are equitably distributed.

The agency started working on the bond issue last month, within days of making $50 million in mortgage funds available at 9.7 percent. Because of the very favorable rate, the majority of these funds were allocated by participating lenders to borrowers within a matter of days.

MHFA Executive Director John Blake, Jr. said the agency was able to achieve the low rate because of a short-term dip in interest rates nationally, and the upgrading of the agency's bonds to A+ by Standard & Poors Corporation, a national investment rating service. "Although we won't know the rate on the upcoming issue until the bonds are sold," Blake said, "we expect it to be about two percentage points less than conventional rates at the time." Blake said that if market conditions prevented the agency from being able to provide mortgages at less than 11 percent, the agency would postpone the bond sale until market conditions improved.

The new mortgages will be available for as little as 5 percent down, at a fixed, thirty-year rate, and can be used for the purchase of a newly constructed, single-family home, including condominium, or the purchase or purchase and rehabilitation of an existing one- to four-family residence.

To qualify for the mortgages, borrowers must be first-time homebuyers, defined as individuals who have not owned a home in the past three years.

In addition, borrowers must meet income eligibility requirements to qualify for the low-interest mortgages. The adjusted gross household income of applicants intending to purchase a home within the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area can be up to $29,000 for an individual, or $35,000 for a household of two. The adjusted gross household income of applicants purchasing a home outside this area can be up to $26,000 for an individual, or $32,000 for a household of two. In both areas, $3,000 can be added for each additional dependent in households of more than two persons.

Of the mortgage funds, 30 percent will be reserved for High Priority Mortgages. In addition to minority and low-income applicants (low income meaning 50 percent or below of MHFA's income guidelines) High Priority Mortgage recipients will include persons who plan to purchase and renovate a home. Also targeted in this category will be persons applying in cooperation with housing counseling agencies which are funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Other High Priority Mortgages are being allotted for distribution in Neighborhood Preservation Areas located in sections of Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Chelsea, Lowell and Springfield.

Costs of homes eligible for the low-interest mortgages range from $77,000 for an existing, single-family home to $123,000 for an existing, four-family home within the BSMSA. The cost of a newly constructed, single-family residence within the BSMSA cannot exceed $86,000. Outside this area, the costs of eligible properties range from $56,000 for an existing, single-family home to $89,000 for an existing, four-family home. The cost of a newly constructed, single-family residence outside the BSMSA cannot exceed $71,000.

Under a newly established application procedure, prospective borrowers (except those applying under certain set-aside programs) will be required to obtain prenumbered MHFA vouchers before submitting applications for mortgage funds. These vouchers are tentatively scheduled to be available at participating lender locations starting August 3, 1983. Vouchers will be distributed by participating lenders in numerical order on a first-come, first-served basis.

Borrowers will then be instructed to return to lender locations, with their vouchers, beginning on August 9, 1983, to make application for a mortgage. Mortgage applications will be processed by participating lenders according to a borrower's voucher number.

No lender will be permitted to distribute vouchers, or accept mortgage applications, prior to the dates mentioned above.

No documentation will be needed by borrowers to obtain vouchers. They need only state they meet first-time homebuyer and income-eligibility requirements, and that they have found a home which they intend to buy at a price which falls within federally mandated acquisition cost limits. When submitting a mortgage application, however, borrowers will be required to provide a signed purchase and sales agreement and should have signed copies of federal tax returns for the past three years to verify they are first-time homebuyers.

Lenders may charge borrowers up to 2 percent of the mortgage amount in addition to standard fees for processing and closing mortgage loan applications.

The mortgage interest rate and the names of lenders participating in the program will not be available until the date the MHFA approves its bond sale — tentatively scheduled for July 21, 1983. The MHFA will publicize this information immediately after the approval of the bond issue. This will be approximately two weeks prior to the date participating lenders are authorized to start issuing vouchers.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY AMERICA!

This Fourth of July marks the 207th year since the colonies declared their independence from Great Britain. The Declaration of Independence was adopted by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776. The document itself, printed on parchment, was signed by members of Congress on and after August 2, 1776.

Boston's first celebration of the Declaration of Independence took place on July 18, 1776, when the document was publicly read from the Old State House. The following is an excerpt from the New England Chronicle of July 25, 1776:

"Thursday last, pursuant to the order of the Honorable Council, was proclaimed from the balcony of the State House in this town the Declaration of the American Congress absolving the United Colonies from their allegiance to the British crown, and declaring them free and independent states. There was present on the occasion in the council chamber a committee of council, a number of the House of Representatives, the magistrates, selectmen, and other gentlemen of Boston and other neighboring towns; also the commission of officers of the Continental regiments stationed here, and other officers. Two of these regiments were under arms in King Street, formed into three lines on the North side of the street and in thirteen divisions, and a detachment from the Massachusetts regiment of artillery, with two pieces of cannon, was on their right wing. At one o'clock the Declaration was proclaimed by Colonel Thomas Crafts, which was received with great joy, expressed by three huzzas (cheers) from a great concourse of people assembled on the occasion. After which, on a signal given, thirteen pieces of cannon were fired from the fort on Fort Hill; the forts at Dorchester Neck, the Castle, Nantasket, and Point Alderton likewise discharged their cannon. Then the detachment of artillery fired their cannon thirteen times, which was followed by the two regiments giving their fire from the thirteen divisions in succession. These firings correspond to the number of American states united. The ceremony was closed with a proper collation to the gentlemen in the council chamber, and toasts were given by the president of the council, and heartily pledged by the company. The bells in town were rung on the occasion, and undissembled festivity cheered and brightened every face.

"On the same evening, the King's arms, and every sign with any resemblance to it, together with any sign that belonged to a Tory, were taken down, and the latter made a general conflagration of in King Street." (Now Washington Street.)

Thus did Boston begin the observance of a holiday in celebration of the birth of our nation. Today the cannons are replaced by fireworks, regiments marching by parades. The spirit remains the same. This Fourth of July Bostonians will once again assemble to celebrate America's independence with "undissembled festivity."

BOSTON RENT EQUITY BOARD TO ALLOW GRIEVANCES

The Rent Equity Board (REB) of the City of Boston today voted (3 to 2) to give an additional protection to 29,000 decontrolled Boston tenants by allowing tenants to dispute rent hikes which exceed the consumer price index (CPI) of the previous twelve months. The protected tenants include all elderly, handicapped, and low- to moderate-income tenants who live in decontrolled apartments.

The REB vote was based on the rent control-condominium conversion ordinance that Mayor Kevin H. White signed on January 10, 1983, which expands tenant protection against unreasonable rent increases. The ordinance stipulates that the REB determine the level at which a tenant can grieve a rent increase.

Michael Donovan, administrator of the REB, said, "If an elderly, handicapped, or low- to moderate-income tenant receives an increase beyond the CPI (estimated at 4 percent), he or she has the right to petition for a grievance hearing to decide if the rent increase is excessive."

"The REB's decision was based on the understanding that landlords have made a commitment to share any tax reductions with tenants," said Mark Goldweitz, the landlord representative to the REB.

The members of the REB include: Theotus Butler, chairman; William T. Koski and Mary Mahoney, representatives at large; Helene Solomon, tenant representative, and Mark Goldweitz, landlord representative.

Tenants who need further information may call: 725-3930.

BOSTON AGENCIES GET FEDERAL FUNDS

As a result of the Federal Jobs Bill, enacted this March, $220,416 will be awarded to qualified nonprofit agencies in Boston to supplement their food and shelter programs.

A local board has recommended that thirty-six agencies — all of which are experienced in the delivery of emergency food and shelter — receive grants ranging from $675 to $20,000. The recommendation comes from representatives of the Mayor's Office, American Red Cross, Council of Churches, the Salvation Army, Combined Jewish Philanthropies, the Catholic Charitable Bureau, and the United Way of Massachusetts Bay.

This local board parallels a national board, which must approve all grants. The national board, chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and assisted by the United Way of America, fiscal agent, had chosen communities nationwide as recipients of an overall $50-million grant. The selection was based on several criteria, including the number of unemployed and homeless people in each area.

Under the same Jobs Bill, an additional $50 million is to be distributed to the fifty states, with Massachusetts receiving nearly $1.3 million. The states will allocate funds to public and private agencies, including United Way affiliates, that serve hungry and homeless people in high-need areas.

"With the infusion of federal money into our area," said Robert X. Chandler, executive vice-president, United Way of Massachusetts Bay, "the United Way has the opportunity to work in partnership with the public sector and private charities to avoid duplication of service and to ensure that urgent human needs are met quickly and fairly."

FOCUS ON HEALTH

Your Lungs

The Air You Breathe

Most of the vital organs in your body are sheltered from the outside environment. But your lungs are almost directly in contact with the world — the air — outside. Some lung disease results from inherited factors. But a great deal of damage to the lungs begins with the germs and irritants we breathe.

In that pint of air you just inhaled there were millions of particles you cannot see. Whether you live in the city or the country, there was dirt, dust, specks of soot, and a host of other irritants and harmful pollutants. Cars, trucks, power plants, incinerators, and furnaces spew hydrocarbons, sulfur dioxide, and other harmful pollutants into the air that you breathe into your lungs.

If you smoke, you inhale directly into your lungs gases like carbon monoxide as well as tars and nicotine. Tars stain your lungs and can cause cancer. Nicotine narrows your blood vessels and cuts down the flow of oxygen to your body. Carbon monoxide literally drives out oxygen from your red blood cells. Even one puff on a cigarette seriously disrupts the flow.

Cigarette Smoke and Pollutants

The major cause of chronic lung disease is cigarette smoking. Air pollution aggravates the condition.

When you inhale cigarette smoke and pollutants in the air, irritating gases and particles cause one line of defense in your lungs — the cilia — to slow down. Cilia are microscopic hairs, tens of millions of them along your air passages. Normally, they wave back and forth about twelve times a second. Cilia sweep out germs and dirt before they get deep into your lungs. But even one puff on a cigarette slows them down. Years of smoking and exposure to air pollution can paralyze or destroy the cilia. This opens your lungs to all kinds of infections.

Cigarette smoke and pollutants also constrict your air passages and make breathing more difficult. Both slow down the activity of scavenger cells called macrophages that literally eat up invading substances.

Chronic Lung Disease

A cough that lasts is a sign of trouble. Coughing is one way the body tries to get rid of excess phlegm (mucus). Normally, the mucus moves from the breathing passages up toward the mouth, swept along by the cilia. The moving carpet of mucus collects dirt and germs along the way. But when the cilia stop moving, the mucus accumulates.

Coughing shakes loose this sticky collection of mucus, dirt, and germs. But in the meantime, the dirt irritates the air passages, and the germs have a chance to reproduce and invade the body tissues. Excess mucus is secreted. Then coughing becomes almost constant.

A cough you can't shake can be a symptom of the lung disease called chronic bronchitis. The symptoms are a cough that lasts for at least three months, comes and goes with colds, and recurs for at least two years in a row. Attention must be paid to that kind of cough.

Medical treatment, plus quitting smoking, usually can clear up the symptoms. If it is untreated, however, the disease can mean serious trouble. Chronic bronchitis can be, and often is, a forerunner of pulmonary emphysema.

Emphysema is one of the most serious causes of death in the U.S. today. In this severe lung disease, the walls of the air sacs rip and tear. Stale air gets trapped in the lungs, and the lungs become overinflated. The exchange of oxygen and carbon dioxide is disrupted. For the person with emphysema, even the effort required to tie a shoelace can be exhausting.

The flow of blood in your lungs is disrupted by the changes caused in emphysema. Your heart has to pump harder and may become enlarged.

Death due to a damaged heart is often an end result of emphysema.

Very few nonsmokers develop emphysema. Most people who have emphysema, except for a tiny percentage of people who are born with a special blood deficiency, have been heavy smokers for years.

There is no cure for emphysema, however, your doctor can prescribe some ways to live easier with the disease. Preventing it by quitting smoking is important.

Other Threats to Your Lungs

What you breathe in, affects what happens to your lungs. You can inhale germs and viruses that cause colds, flu, and pneumonia.

Sometimes when you have a severe cold your breathing tubes can become irritated and inflamed. However, acute bronchitis, in contrast to the chronic version, does not linger long. Rest and medical treatment can help subdue these infections.

The air you breathe can contain mold-like substances and fungi. When these lodge in your lungs, your breathing patterns can be disrupted markedly and you can become ill. The symptoms can resemble those of tuberculosis. Some fungus infections can be fatal, if untreated. Plant pollens and just can also trigger allergic reactions, making the tissues inside your nose swell.

Asthma, a temporary blocking of the small air passages of the lungs, can be the result of an allergic reaction. The breathing passages constrict and attacks of shortness of breath and wheezing occur. The attacks may not last long or may continue for days. Severe attacks, particularly in older patients, can be fatal. Psychological and inherited factors play a part in the disease. However, environmental factors such as irritating dusts and chemicals are usually related to the first onset of symptoms.

Medical treatment can often relieve the symptoms and forestall further attacks.

What you breathe in at work can cause lung trouble, too. Workers who are exposed to occupational hazards in the air — cotton fibers, coal dust, asbestos, and other harmful substances — can develop lung diseases. Ridding the air everywhere of threats to the lungs is essential.

TB Germs

Anyone, including you, can breathe in TB germs from the air. The germs are spread by coughing or sneezing of a person who has active TB germs in his or her sputum. And you can spread the germs to others without even knowing you are ill.

Most people who develop TB illness today, however, were infected years ago when the disease was much more widespread. But their body's defenses were stronger than the germs. Their bodies walled off the germs and encased them in calcium.

When the body's defenses weaken years or decades later, the barriers begin to crumble. Then the TB germs escape and multiply. The person coughs often, feels tired and weak, and may lose weight. Spitting up blood in the sputum and loss of appetite may be signs of well-developed disease.

People with these symptoms should see a physician. A tuberculin skin test, chest X-rays, and laboratory tests may confirm the presence of actual disease. Taking pills can cure the disease and most people can carry on normal, active lives at home and work. In fact, if people who harbor TB germs take pills, they can prevent actual disease from developing at all.

Defending Your Lungs

Seeing a doctor when breathing problems first develop is a good first line of defense. Early treatment can stave off later trouble.

THREE-HORNED DINOSAUR AT SCIENCE MUSEUM

Where the Bighorn now roam, the three-horned dinosaurs once lived some sixty-five million years ago.

The skeleton of one of these extinct animals, the Triceratops, is currently being assembled in view of visitors at Boston's Museum of Science. The museum obtained the 23-foot-long fiberglass cast from an original at the American Museum of Natural History.

The skeleton reveals that Triceratops must have eaten tough, coarse plants because its jaws are massive. Its skull is the heaviest of any dinosaur. As a result of the Triceratops couldn't move quickly, but had to rely on its horns to repel enemies.

Despite its lack of speed, Triceratops proliferated. Its bones litter the American West.

The skeleton is the most recent addition to the museum's growing dinosaur display, which includes models of Tyrannosaurus rex and Compsognathus longipes, casts of an Ultrasaurus arm-bone and of dinosaur tracks, and a diorama showing one dinosaur attacking another.

FACTS FOR CONSUMERS

From the Federal Trade Commission Car Ads: Low-Interest Loans and Other Offers

Many new car dealers have been advertising unusually low-interest rates and other special promotions such as high trade-in allowances and free low-cost options. While these advertisements may help you shop, finding the best deal requires careful comparisons.

There are many factors that determine whether a special offer provides genuine savings. The interest rate, for example, is only part of the car dealer's financing package. Other terms, such as the size of the downpayment, also affect the total financing cost. Be sure to consider all aspects of a financing plan before you sign a contract.

When considering an advertised special, read the ad carefully and call or visit the dealer to find out about all the terms and conditions of the offer. Then compare the specials advertised by other dealers.

Questions About Low-Interest Loans

Listed below are some financing questions you should consider when talking to dealers.

Will you be charged a higher price for the car to qualify for the low-rate financing? Would the price be lower if you paid cash, or supplied your own financing from your bank or credit union?

Does the financing require a larger-than-usual downpayment — say 25 or 30 percent?

Are there limits on the length of the loan? In other words, are you required to repay the loan in a short period of time — say twelve or twenty-four months?

Do you have to buy special or extra merchandise or services such as rust-proofing, and extended warranty, or a service contract to qualify for low-interest loan?

Is the financing available for a limited time only? Some merchants limit special deals to a few days, or require that you take delivery by a special date.

Does the low rate apply to all cars in stock or only to certain models?

Are you required to give the dealer the manufacturer's rebate (if one is offered) to qualify for financing?

Does the dealer offer any other financing packages that you might consider?

Questions About Other Special Promotions

Other special promotions include high trade-in allowances and free or low-cost options. Some dealers also promise to sell you a car for a stated amount over the "dealer's invoice." The following questions can help you determine if such special promotions offer genuine value.

Does the advertised trade-in allowance apply to all cars, regardless of their conditions? Are there any deductions for high mileage, dents, or rust?

Does the large trade-in allowance make the cost of the new car higher than it would be without the trade-in? You might be giving back the big trade-in allowance by paying for your new car,

Is the dealer who offers high trade-in allowances and free or low-cost options actually giving you a better price on the car than another dealer who does not offer such promotions?

Does the "dealer's invoice" reflect the actual amount that the dealer pays the manufacturer? You can consult consumer or automotive publications for information about what the dealer pays.

Does the "dealer's invoice" include the cost of options, such as rustproofing or waterproofing, that have already been added to your car? Is the dealer charging more for these options than other dealers?

Does the dealer have cars in stock without expensive added options? If not, will the dealer order one for you?

Are the special offers available if you order a car instead of buying one off the lot?

Can you take advantage of all special offers simultaneously?

Remember, you are not limited to financing offered by the dealer. You may wish to see what type of loan you can arrange with your bank or credit union.

Once you decide which dealer offers the car and financing you want, read the invoice and the installment contract carefully. Check to see that all the terms of the contract reflect the agreement you made with the dealer. If they differ, get a written explanation before you sign. Careful shopping will help you decide what financing, car, and options are best for you.

LOOK, MA, NO CAVITIES!

In a report published recently in the Journal of the American Dental Association, James E. Williams, D.D.S., Ph.D., notes that after a single application of a chemical sealant to selected teeth in nearly 400 school children, 68 percent of the treated teeth were still protected six years later.

The sealant is a special resin designed to bond with the tooth enamel, forming an invisible barrier to decay-causing agents.

The application can be performed in almost any dentist's office as part of a regular dental examination. The process is painless and takes only a few minutes.

Dr. Williams cautions, however, that sealants are not meant to take the place of regular brushing with fluoride toothpaste, flossing, and other routine oral care. They are, instead "just one of the many ways to guard against dental disease."

For the purposes of this paragraph, the term minority business enterprise means a business organization in which at least 51 percent of the beneficial ownership is held by minority group members who are Black, Hispanic, Oriental, or American Indians.

Included with the contract documents are copies

At the request of the city, one or more of the three lowest bidders may also be required to submit a Minority Business Identification Statement.

There was this fellow who said: "For three nights, I dreamed about salami, bologna, and liverwurst. I took it as a hunch, so I went to the racetrack. Lo and behold, the first race had a horse named Salami, one named Bologna, and another name Liverwurst. Naturally, I bet on all three to win. Coming down the stretch, all three were in a dead heat for first place and I almost had a heart attack because of the excitement."

"Which horse won?" asked his friend. "A long shot named Coldcuts."

At the request of the city, one or more of the three lowest

MAYOR TOPS-OFF 40-STORY OFFICE TOWER

Says building represents dramatic addition to Financial District.

Mayor Kevin H. White, on Tuesday, June 28, topped-off the Exchange Place office tower, located at 53 State Street, at the corner of Congress and State Streets. The forty-story, 1.1 million square-foot, blue, reflective glass-clad tower is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1984.

Mayor White said, "Exchange Place will be one of the most dramatic new additions to downtown Boston and the Financial District. This building, in particular, represents a unique effort to combine a Boston landmark, the Stock Exchange Building, with a modern office facility."

Exchange Place is a multi-million-dollar development and one of the largest office buildings presently under construction in Boston. The developer, Olympia & York, is an international development corporation with U.S. headquarters in New York, and owns and operates more than 50 million square feet of office space throughout North America. The commercial brokerage firm of Leggat McCall & Warner, Inc., Boston, is the exclusive leasing agent for Exchange Place.

Designed by the architectural firm of WZMH Habib, Inc., Exchange Place, represents a unique fusion of turn-of-the-century design and modern technology. The forty-story, glass tower will be connected by a bridge and five-story glass atrium to the preserved granite facade of the ten-story Stock Exchange Building, a Boston landmark built in 1889. A granite-paved plaza, landscaped with trees, and granite lobby featuring a reflective, stainless steel ceiling facing the Congress Street entrance will link the low- and high-rise sections of the building.

The grand marble staircase, once a major interior feature of the Exchange Building, will be restored to create the centerpiece for the atrium lobby, which will be used by pedestrians as a means of access to and from the surrounding areas.

The restored section of Exchange Place offers 80,000 square feet of office space and 20,000 square feet of retail and banking space; with approximately 7,000 square feet per floor. The glass tower features a total of 1 million square feet of office space, with about 25,000 square feet per floor.

The building, which has been designed with emphasis on energy conservation, features a number of energy-saving devices, including a computer center to monitor all heating, air conditioning and ventilation systems. Other amenities include twenty, high-speed leather and bronze-walled elevators and executive parking.

BEAT THE HEAT FOR SUMMER FUN IN SUN

Heat stress or hypothermia can be dangerous, especially during the summer months. The body needs time to adjust to hot weather. Sudden jumps in temperature can put a strain on the heart and blood vessels, and that can lead to heat exhaustion, heart failure, and strokes.

Early symptoms of heat stress — feeling hot, uncomfortable, listless — are not dangerous unless they hang on. See a doctor immediately if any of these serious warning signs are present: dizziness, rapid heartbeat, diarrhea, nausea, cramps, throbbing headache, dry skin (no sweating), chest pain, great weakness, mental changes, breathing problems, vomiting.

Heat stress can be avoided. Just keep as cool as possible by taking these precautions:

- Use the air conditioning; if none, spend time in the coolest room in the house or in cool shopping malls, libraries, and movie theaters.
- Turn on fans. They draw cool air into the house at night and circulate air during the day.
- Take cool baths or showers. Either removes extra body heat twenty-five times faster than cool air. Ice bags or wet towels also help.
- Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothing. Outdoors, wear a hat or carry an umbrella.
- Drink plenty of water. Don't wait to be thirsty.
- Stop physical activity in very hot weather.
- Avoid hot foods and heavy meals. They add heat to the body.

- Watch salt intake. Consult the doctor before taking salt tablets.

- Avoid alcohol. It leads to fast water loss and makes one less aware of possible danger signs.

Additional information on heat stress is available on heat stress is available from the private, nonprofit Center for Environmental Physiology, 1218 31st Street, NW, Washington, DC 20007.

MBTA TO OPERATE WHEELCHAIR-LIFT BUSES

As part of its program to improve services for the elderly and handicapped, the MBTA will operate buses equipped with wheelchair lifts on Boston routes this summer, MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary has announced. The service will be available to special needs passengers in South Boston (Rt. 7), Mattapan and Ashmont (Rt. 27) and Hyde Park (Rt. 32).

"This bus service complements our other efforts to improve transit for special needs passengers," said O'Leary. "The routes are planned so passengers can reach rapid transit stations which feature ramps, elevators, and other barrier-free designs."

The bus service also provides an alternative to the Green Line, which is not accessible to passengers with wheelchairs, O'Leary noted.

The special buses, which bear the international wheelchair symbol to the left of the front door, are all numbered in the "9400" series.

With a simple flick of a switch by the driver, the lift slides out of its storage position and is lowered to the curb or ground. Passengers in wheelchairs, or others who cannot board a regular bus, move onto the lift, which then acts as a small elevator, raising them onto the bus. Special restraint devices keep the wheelchairs clamped securely in place during the bus ride.

All eighty-four buses also feature a "kneeling" capability. For those not in wheelchairs, but who cannot easily mount the steps, the driver can lower the front of the bus to within inches of the curb to make boarding easier.

"We will monitor the lift-bus performance closely," said O'Leary. "We want special needs passengers to be able to use this service with confidence, and we will use what we learn on these routes to help us expand and improve service for special needs passengers."

Schedules and information on other special services are available at the MBTA's Special Needs Office. Passengers with inquiries should call 722-5123.

BOSTON PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES GET SCHOLARSHIPS TO B.U.

Mayor Kevin H. White, on June 27, honored fifty-eight Boston public high school students who will be attending Boston University this fall on full scholarships. Since 1973, Boston University has annually offered three, four-year scholarships to graduating seniors from each of Boston's eighteen public high schools.

In his address to the students and their families at the Boston Latin School, the Mayor said, "Schools, businesses and government have renewed their commitment to the people of Boston. Today the results of that commitment can be seen everywhere—from fifty-eight, full-tuition scholarships to Boston University, to the computer literacy and jobs goals of the Boston Compact, and in a promise to rebuild the Latin Schools. In the coming decade, Bostonians will have the chance to play a more vital role in this city than they ever had before."

The Mayor continued, "Thanks to the generosity and vision of Boston University, you will soon be extending your studies and expanding your intellectual appetites."

Since its inception, 308 students have received scholarships. The candidates are nominated by guidance counselors in collaboration with teachers. Six nominations are presented by each school; three nominees and three alternates. Criteria for selection include financial need, academic quality, and motivation. The selection committee is made up of three representatives: one from the university, one from the Boston School Department, and one from the Mayor's Office.

This year's contribution totals $481,400. Over four years, the program represents a university investment of $1,925,600. Since 1973, the university has contributed $3,650,000.

Also speaking at the awards ceremony honoring the 1983 recipients were: Kevin A. McCluskey, president of the Boston School Committee; Dr. Robert R. Spillane, Boston school superintendent and Dr. John R. Silber, president of Boston University.

KITE FLIGHT DAY AT SCIENCE MUSEUM

An event for kite enthusiasts, as well as for those who have yet to hold a kite string in their hands, takes place at Boston's Museum of Science Wednesday, July 13.

Kite Flight Day, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., is a series of demonstrations by a kite authority from Come Fly a Kite store, Martha's Vineyard.

Demonstrations will include spectacular stunt kites that loop, circle, and dive. The expert will put through its paces a flexifoil kite that accelerates from zero to 100 miles per hour in less than three seconds. The latter kite has been known to outmaneuver an F-111 jet fighter and to pull a two-ton truck uphill across a grass field.

If the weather does not permit an outdoor demonstration, there will be indoor demonstrations of smaller kites that can fly without much wind. Visitors can listen to talks on aerodynamics and ask any questions they might have.

To mark the occasion, a 150-foot, Charlie Chaplin kite, attached to the museum roof, will stretch over the Charles River Basin during the day.

The event, to be repeated August 17, is related to the summer-long exhibition, Art on a String. The exhibition features 100 kites from around the world, including both old and new designs. Every Wednesday afternoon, from 1 to 4 p.m., during July and August, museum volunteer guides will present demonstrations beneath the hanging kites. Some of these demonstrations will include showing visitors how to make 8-inch kites and how to get them aloft. Other demonstrations will focus on why a kite flies.

There is no extra charge for Kite Flight Day or for the Wednesday afternoon demonstrations. Museum admission for adults is $5; $4 for students; and $3, ages five to sixteen and sixty-five and over. The museum is open until 5 p.m.

IV. LETTER OF THANKS

"Dear Commissioner Paul:

Please convey my thanks to the officers and men of the Boston Fire Department who worked at the recent five-alarm fire at Atherton Road in Brookline. The fire was a very destructive one in that it involved two, very large, wooden dwellings on the high side of Atherton Road with other similar types of multi-family dwellings severely exposed.

"Through the coordinated efforts of our departments along with several other Mutual Aid communities, we were able to hold the fire to the two buildings initially involved on arrival. Your men did an outstanding job.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES P. FALLON, Chief,
Town of Brookline."

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

June 28.

General Order No. 36

II. FIRE ALARM BOX ESTABLISHED

The following-mentioned fire alarm box has been established and will be installed in the near future: 12-1463 — Lafayette Mall Garage, Bedford and Chauncy Streets.

Company commanders will add the above box to their assignment cards. The circuit number will be announced when the box is installed.

III. HIGH COMMENDATION

On May 13, 1983, this department responded to Box 1262 at 0953 hours for a report of a building fire at 18 Tremont Street, District Three. Upon arrival there was smoke showing from all twelve floors with civilians at most windows at the rear of the building. Rescue Company 1 was informed of a person trapped and in trouble on the first-floor level Court Square side of the building.

Fire Fighters Paul P. Keeley and David R. Mager of Rescue Company 1 entered the area through two sets of doors encountering heavy smoke, heat, arcing and sparking of electrical equipment. Once beyond the second door, the fire flashed overhead whereupon they were forced to close the door behind them to confine the fire and make search for the victim before any fire operations or ventilation had begun. During the search, Fire Fighter Keeley located the victim severely burned and suffering from smoke inhalation and immediately removed his face piece, he placed it on the victim while removing him to the street where he administered first aid. Fire Fighter Mager continued his search and found no other victim in the area.

Because this rescue was performed at great personal risk and without regard for his own safety, the First Commissioner/Chief is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Paul P. Keeley for his actions and refers his case to the Board of Merit for further consideration and commends Fire Fighter David R. Mager of Rescue Company 1 for his diligent search and recommends a copy of this commendation become a part of his personal file.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

June 30

General Order No. 37

II. FIRE ALARM BOXES ESTABLISHED

The following-named fire alarm boxes have been installed and company commanders shall add them to their respective circuit cards:

4214 — First Avenue and Fifth Street, Circuit 43.
4224 — Fifth Avenue and Thirteenth Street, Circuit 44.
4238 — Eighth Street at Building 197, Circuit 44.
4242 — Ninth Street at Building 192, Circuit 43.

III. COMMENDATION

The Fire Commissioner/Chief is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Warren Whitaker of Ladder Company 25 for discovering and assisting in extinguishing of a fire at 4397 Washington Street while off duty.

There was this fellow who said: "For three nights, I dreamed about salami, bologna, and liverwurst. I took it as a hunch, so I went to the racetrack. Lo and behold, the first race had a horse named Salami, one named Bologna, and another name Liverwurst. Naturally, I bet on all three to win. Coming down the stretch, all three were in a dead heat for first place and I almost had a heart attack because of the excitement."

"Which horse won?" asked his friend. "A long shot named Coldcuts."

In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The successful bidder will be required to provide insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Department, and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the contract documents must be paid on this project and that the contractor must ensure that employees and applicants for employment are not discriminated against because of their race, creed, color, or national origin.

The Inspectional Services Commissioner is allowing a thirty-day period to complete the demolition and site clearance of these buildings starting with his signature on contract.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest to do so.

The contractor's attention is called to XXIV, Protection to the Public. These measures, which appear in the contract, are of two general types: revisions to the demolition contract specifications, and modifications or additions to the Clearance of Unsafe Buildings Program itself.

NOTICE OF REQUIREMENT FOR AFFIRMATIVE ACTION TO ENSURE EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY (EXECUTIVE ORDER 11246), IF APPLICABLE

The contractor's attention is called to the "Equal Opportunity Clause" and "Standard Federal Equal Opportunity Construction Contract Specifications" set forth in this part.

The goals and timetables for minority and female participation are expressed in percentage terms for the contractor's aggregate workforce in each trade on all construction work in the covered areas. (See pages EEO-1 and EEO-2 of the bid specifications for goals and timetables.)

These goals are applicable to all the contractor's construction work (whether or not it is federal or federally assisted) performed in the covered areas.

As used in the notice, and in the contract, the covered area is Arlington, Boston, Belmont, Brookline, Burlington, Cambridge, Canton, Chelsea, Dedham, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Milton, Norwood, Reading, Revere, Somerville, Stoneham, Wakefield, Westwood, Winthrop, Winchester, Woburn, and the Islands of Boston Harbor, Massachusetts.

The contractor's compliance with the Executive Order and the regulations in 41 CFR Part 60-4 shall be based on its implementation of the Equal Opportunity Clause, specific affirmation action obligations required to meet the goals established for the geographical area where the contract is to be performed.

The hours of minority and female employment and training must be substantially uniform throughout the length of the contract in each trade, and the contractor shall make a good-faith effort to employ minorities and women evenly on each of its projects.

The transfer of minority or female employees or trainees from contractor to contractor or from project to project for the sole purpose of meeting the contractor's goals shall be a violation of the contract, the Executive Order and the regulations in 41 CFR Part 60-4. Compliance with the goals will be measured against the total workhours performed.

No bid for the award of this project will be considered acceptable unless the general contractor complies fully with the following requirements for minority business enterprise utilization.

Notice

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the City of Boston Supplemental Minority Participation and Resident Section contract provision of the specifications for and the obligations of the contractor and subcontractors to take affirmative action in connection with employment practices in the performance of this contract.

Attention to All Bidders

I. Minority Business Requirements

No bid for the award of this project will be considered acceptable unless the general contractor complies fully with the following requirements for minority business enterprise utilization.

Pursuant to the Supplemental Minority Participation section of this contract, the general contractor must give satisfactory assurance that at least 25 percent of his bid price shall be expended for minority business enterprise, if the bid is over $50,000. If the bid is under $50,000, but greater than $10,000, then the requirement is 10 percent. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term minority business enterprise means a business in which at least 51 percent of the beneficial ownership and control is held by one or more minority persons (Black, Hispanic, Asian-American, or American Indians).

Each general contractor must complete, sign and file with his bid the Minority Business Utilization Form. The Minority Business Utilization Form shall be completed and signed by the minority business enterprise and the general contractor. Failure to submit a Minority Business Utilization Form with the bid proposal will result in the rejection of the bid.

The City of Boston Minority Business Director lists all minority-owned businesses that have been certified as such by the City of Boston. A copy of this directory can be obtained from the Awarding Authority or the Minority Business Office, 15 Beacon Street, fifth floor, Boston, MA 02108, telephone number 720-4300. If a contractor wishes to use a minority business that is not listed in the directory, he must contact the Minority Business Office to obtain a copy and submit with his bid, a Minority Business Identification Statement. The dollar amount obligated to a non-certified (City of Boston) minority business will not count towards the minority business percentage requirements.

II. Workforce Requirements

During the performance of this contract, the general contractor shall agree and shall require that his subcontractors agree to the following workforce requirements (labor).

1. Minority Workforce: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 25 percent ratio of minority manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract.

2. Female Workforce: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 10 percent ratio of female employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade work on the contract.

3. Boston Residents: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 50 percent ratio of Boston resident employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract.

4. The workforce requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) above shall apply to each trade that appears on the list of "Classification and Minimum Wage Rates" as determined by the Commission of Labor and Industries under the provisions of chapter 149, section 26 through 27G, of the General Laws of Massachusetts, as amended. If you have any questions pertaining to the applicability of these requirements, please call the Compliance Office at 720-4300.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the provisions of the contract documents, including, with limitation, the notice to all bidders (including subbidders), and the provisions with respect to bonds, insurance, equal employment opportunity, minimum wages, time of performance, liquidated damages, and the requirements set forth in the specifications on supplemental equal employment portunity, anti-discrimination and affirmative action program contract provisions, and to the requirements of mandatory compliance with section of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 and Executive Order 11246. A statement of workforce needs as requested by section 3 and a section 3 affirmative action plan shall be submitted with the contractor's proposal. A section 3 affirmative action plan consists of tables AAP-1 to AAP-3 and forms AAP-1 and AAP-2 and can be found at pages ST-1-ST-7 of the contract documents. This requirement will be strictly adhered to. Proposals submitted without the required forms will be rejected. No bidder shall be eligible for award of this contract unless he is able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Awarding Authority his ability to comply with these requirements. All prospective bidders will be required to attend a prebid conference prior to submitting a bid. The time and place will be announced.

Proceedings of City Council

Wednesday, June 9, 1982.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 1 p.m., President IANNELLA in the chair and all the members present.

The Reverend Walter Waldron of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston, delivered the invocation, and the meeting was opened with the salute to the flag.

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE RESTRICTING CONSUMPTION OF LIQUOR IN PUBLIC WAYS AND PLACES AND PROHIBITING PROCUREMENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES BY UNDERAGE DRINKERS THROUGH PERSUASION OR DURESS

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, a proposed ordinance relating to the purchase and consumption of alcoholic beverages which was passed by your Honorable Body on May 12, 1982.

Although I agree in many respects with the thrust of the proposal, I must disapprove for several reasons.

First, since your ordinance was passed the Supreme Judicial Court in the case of Commonwealth v. Lammi, 386 Mass. 299 (1982) upheld an ordinance containing language prohibiting public drinking which is substantially broader than that in our existing ordinance, or in that proposed. Accordingly, I think that we should work together to include this newly approved broad language.

Secondly, proposed section 2 of the ordinance attempts to regulate conduct already regulated in G.L. c. 138, s. 34, and, therefore local regulation is preempted by state law.

Lastly, since it is a crime for a minor to possess alcoholic beverages, and it is also a crime to threaten people with bodily harm, section 3 which relates to intimidation of adults by youths seeking to have adults purchase alcoholic beverages for them seeks to regulate conduct already regulated.

Respectfully,

Kevin H. White,
Mayor.

(Annexed hereto is the ordinance referred to.)

Assigned for seven days for further action.

I am submitting herewith an order in the amount of $63,868.13 for the Eastern Regional Library.

I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Very truly yours,

Kevin H. White,

Ordered, That from State Reimbursements for the Eastern Regional Public Library under General Laws c. 78, s. 19C, the sum of $63,868.13 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated to the Board of Trustees in charge of the Library Department for the purposes of the Eastern Regional Public Library.

REPORT ON DELETION OF CLAUSE IN AGREEMENT BETWEEN EDIC AND VII CORPORATION (FORMERLY KNOWN AS O'CONNELL SEAFOOD, INC.)

Coun. BOLLING, on behalf of the Committee on Planning, Development and Housing, submitted the following:

Report on Docket No. 0448, order that Committee on Planning, Development and Housing hold a hearing re deletion of clause in agreement between EDIC and VII Corporation (formerly known as O'Connell Seafood, Inc.) (referred April 14) — recommending that the order be placed on file, and further recommending passage of the following order:

Whereas, The Boston fishing industry has traditionally been and continues to be an important part of the city's economy; and

Whereas, The industry faces increasing competition from other local ports for a share of the commercial sale, distribution and processing of fish as well as ancillary activity related to the maintenance and repair of commercial vessels; and

Whereas, New facilities developed by EDIC at Pier 7 of the Boston Marine Industrial Park (290 Northern Avenue) have the potential for providing new services to commercial fishing vessels and thus increasing Boston Harbor's capacity for new commercial fishing activity; and

Whereas, The current limitations imposed earlier by the City Council on fish unloading and processing at Pier 7 may have an inhibiting effect on the healthy expansion of the fishing industry in Boston; therefore, be it

Ordered:

(1) That the City Council order of February 20, 1980, pertaining to the use of the maritime facility at 290 Northern Avenue (the "Facility") and the use of loan repayments under the UDAG received for the development of said facility be amended so that:

(a) in addition to the already permitted activities, the Facility may be used from this date until May 31, 1983, for the unloading and sale of fish, and, without any future time limitation, for the processing of fish.

(b) that EDIC/Boston be required to amend its lease of November 9, 1981, with VII Corp. (the "Lease") so as to provide for this temporary change in permitted activities.

(c) that upon receipt of the recommendations or evaluation made by the Boston Fishing Industry Committee as described under paragraph 2 below, the Council shall make further recommendations as to those steps to be taken to encourage the economic growth and vitality of the fishing industry in Boston Harbor, whereupon EDIC/Boston, prior to June 1, 1983, may further amend the Lease as to the continuation of fish unloading and selling.

(d) that the proceeds from the repayment of the UDAG loan for the development of the Facility be used for community development activities as permitted under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1977 (P.L. 95-128).

(2) That under the direction of the Chairman of the Committee for Planning and Development, a committee be established to examine and evaluate fishing-related activities and procedures as carried out at the Boston Fish Pier and the Facility and to recommend such modifications to these activities and procedures as may enhance the economic growth and vitality of the fishing industry in Boston Harbor. Such committee shall be known as the Boston Fishing Industry Committee and its membership shall include representatives of the Boston City Council, Massport, EDIC/Boston, the New England Fish Exchange, VII Corp., vessel owners, and fish processors. The recommendations of the Committee shall be submitted to the Boston City Council no later than May 1, 1983.

The report was accepted; Docket No. 0448 was placed on file. The order was passed.

Report on Docket No. 0533, message of the Mayor and order for approval of Industrial Development Project for Capital Circuits Corporation (referred May 26) — recommending passage of the order.

The report was accepted; the order was passed.

REQUESTING EXPLORATION OF FEASIBILITY OF ACQUIRING CERTAIN PARCEL OF LAND

BY EMINENT DOMAIN TO PROVIDE SUBSIDIZED RELOCATION HOUSING FOR FAMILIES IN NORTH STATION AREA DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Coun. FLYNN offered the following:

Whereas, Residents in the Billerica Street area near North Station are facing a serious problem of family disruption because of impending clearance of their homes by October, 1982, for construction of a new federal office building; and

Whereas, Available standard housing anywhere near the neighborhood at affordable rents for at least forty-nine families does not seem possible in the time remaining, according to testimony elicited at a Committee on Planning and Development public hearing this week; and

Whereas, There exists in the area a parcel of land at Staniford Street and Lomasney Way constituting a part of the Charles River Park Development, expanded from the original West End Urban Renewal Project which itself forced hundreds of residents to disperse; and

Whereas, This tract of land has remained idle for years and now the public good calls for its use to serve a priority need as relocation housing; now, therefore, be it

Ordered, By the Boston City Council that his Honor, the Mayor, be asked to explore with the Corporation Counsel and the Boston Redevelopment Authority the feasibility of acquiring the parcel of land by eminent domain for the public purpose of constructing subsidized relocation housing for those families facing forced relocation to accommodate the North Station Area Development Plan; and be it also Ordered, That the agencies consider and approach federal agencies for any additional grants that might be applied toward such relocation housing and temporary housing accommodations while permanent facilities are in construction as a method of assuring that the Billerica Street area parcels can be ready for North Station Area Development this fall.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

On motion of Councillor LANGONE Rule 10 of the Rules of the City Council was suspended in order to introduce the following:

CHALLENGING LEGALITY OF HUD APPLICATION BECAUSE OF BRA'S FAILURE TO ABIDE BY APPLICATION FOR NORTH STATION URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT

Couns. LANGONE, BOLLING and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, There was a public hearing on the North Station Urban Renewal Project before the Committee on Planning, Development and Housing; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council voted approval of this project on July 16, 1980, with the provision that the Boston Redevelopment Authority set up a relocation plan for the residents of this area before filing eminent domain proceedings in court; and

Whereas, The Boston Redevelopment Authority has not submitted any specific relocation plan to any governmental agency or to the Boston City Council, as required by the amendments attached to the plan on July 16, 1980; and

Whereas, The Boston Redevelopment Authority has advertised for demolition proposals for those residential buildings; and

Whereas, The Boston Redevelopment Authority must prepare the site cleared to the General Services Administration by October 1, 1982; and

Whereas, There are at least fifty-three families without suitable relocation, even though the Boston Redevelopment Authority had two years to prepare a plan; and

Whereas, The Boston Redevelopment Authority does not, at present, have any relocation housing for these residents which is their legal obligation under the federal regulations; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, as governing body of the City of Boston, challenge the legality of the application submitted to the Housing and Urban Development Department of the U.S. Government for the Boston Redevelopment Authority's failure to abide by the application for the North Station Urban Renewal Project; and be it further

Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized to notify the General Counsel of the Housing and Urban Development Department in Washington, by registered mail, with a copy of this order.

On motion of Coun. LANGONE, the rules were suspended; the resolution was adopted.

ORDER RE SALE OF AIR RIGHTS TO NORTH END AUTO SERVICE, INC. FOR $7,400

Coun. BOLLING called up, under unfinished business, No. 17 on the calendar, viz.:

Message of the Mayor and order re sale of air rights to the North End Auto Service, Inc., for $7,400. (Docket No. 0417)

On May 26, 1982, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 7, nays 2.

Coun. BOLLING moved passage of the order. The vote was:

Yeas — Councillors Bolling, Hennigan, Iannella, McCormack, McDermott — 5.

Nays — Councillors Flynn, Langone, O'Neil — 3.

Absent — Councillor Tierney — 1.

Coun. O'NEIL changed his vote from No to Yes.

Coun. LANGONE stated that a vote could not be changed while a roll call was in progress and that the chair had held the call of the roll longer than two minutes.

President IANNELLA ruled that the point of order was not well taken.

Coun. LANGONE questioned the ruling of the chair.

At the request of the President, the Clerk read Rule 18 of the Rules of the City Council.

President IANNELLA ruled that Coun. O'Neil changed his vote after the roll call was concluded.

Coun. LANGONE stated that the President had no right to stop the roll call, that the rule stated it should be "without interruption."

President IANNELLA ruled that there was no interruption, but that for purposes of clarification the roll should be taken again.

Coun. LANGONE objected.

Coun. BOLLING moved reconsideration; reconsideration prevailed.

Coun. LANGONE stated that President IANNELLA had not announced the result of the original roll call vote and that, therefore, it could not be reconsidered.

President IANNELLA ruled that the point of order was not well taken and stated that he had announced it but that, in any event, he would announce now that the vote was Yeas 6, Nays 2.

Coun. LANGONE doubted the ruling of the chair.

The ruling of the chair was upheld:

Yeas — Councillors Bolling, Hennigan, Iannella, McCormack, McDermott, Tierney — 6.

Nays — Councillors Flynn, Hennigan, and Langone — 3.

Coun. BOLLING moved the question.

Yeas — Councillors Bolling, Hennigan, Iannella, McCormack, McDermott, O'Neil — 6.

Nays — Councillors Flynn, Langone, Tierney — 3.

Coun. LANGONE moved that a copy of the debate on this matter be printed in the City Record and for each member individually.

The motion was carried.

COMMITTEE ON PLANNING, DEVELOPMENT AND HOUSING TO HOLD HEARING ON ORDINANCE PROHIBITING DISPLACEMENT OF TENANTS AS RESULT OF CONDOMINIUM CONVERSION AND OTHER MATTERS RE HOUSING DISPLACEMENT

Coun. FLYNN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Planning, Development and Housing conduct a hearing on Docket No. 0476 (Ordinance Prohibiting the Displacement of Tenants as a Result of Condominium Conversion) and any other matters relating to housing displacement.

Referred to the Committee on Planning, Development and Housing.

REQUESTING COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC SAFETY BE ALLOWED TO MEET WEDNESDAY MORNINGS FOR REMAINDER OF CITY COUNCIL TERM

Couns. HENNIGAN and O'NEIL offered the following:

Whereas, Wednesday morning was designated at the beginning of the present City Council term to be the official date of meeting for the Boston City Council's Public Safety Committee; and

Whereas, For a number of past years, Wednesday morning has been a day and time available for Committee meetings to be held; and

Whereas, A precedent existed in 1974, according to the City Council Rules for 1974-1975 as delineated in City Document No. 33 p. 10; and

Whereas, This year, the Committee on Public Safety was assigned Wednesday morning for the full Committee year, and changing this date mid-year would cause confusion and disruption, and would limit public access to public safety meetings; and

Whereas, Today, in Boston, the area of public safety has been particularly affected due to the present financial crisis facing our city; therefore, be it

Ordered, That for the remainder of this City Council term, the Public Safety Committee be allowed to continue to meet on Wednesday mornings as previously assigned; and therefore, be it further Ordered, That Rule 34 of the Boston City Council's Rules of the City Council 1982-1983, be amended to permit the scheduling of meetings of regular standing Committees on the day of a regular City Council meeting, provided such meetings terminate at least one hour prior to the scheduled meeting of the Boston City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

COMMITTEE ON HUMAN SERVICES TO HOLD HEARING ON SPECIAL PROBLEMS FACING INDOCHINESE REFUGEES SETTLING IN BOSTON

Coun. McCORMACK offered the following:

Whereas, The population of the City of Boston is composed of many different ethnic groups; and

Whereas, The citizens of Boston take pride in the city's diverse ethnic composition and wish to preserve it; and

Whereas, In recent years, an increasing number of Indochinese refugees have chosen to settle in Boston and to begin new lives in the United States; and

Whereas, Due to language, cultural, educational, and economic barriers, many of the newly arrived Indo-chinese are experiencing difficulty adapting to their new lives; therefore, be it

Ordered, That the City Concil Committee on Human Services conduct a hearing on the special problems facing these new residents of Boston; and that representatives of public and private agencies and organizations be invited to discuss services already in place to aid the Indo-chinese adjustment to social, economic, cultural, and educational changes, as well as areas of need not being addressed by community services at this time.

Referred to the Committee on Human Services.

On motion of Councillor IANNELLA Rule 10 of the Rules of the City Council was suspended in order to introduce the following:

COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS TO INVESTIGATE FEASIBILITY OF INCREASING FINES FOR DRINKING IN PUBLIC

Couns. McDERMOTT and IANNELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council's Committee on Government Operations investigate the feasibility of increasing the fines for drinking in public to a maximum of two hundred dollars for each offense.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY EMPLOYEE

Coun. IANNELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That effective Wednesday, June 9, 1982, the following-named person be, and hereby is, appointed to the position set against her name until Wednesday, July 7, 1982:

Juanita Saunders, administrative assistant/microfiche operator, at $214 weekly.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

On motion of Councillors LANGONE and BOLLING Rule 10 of the Rules of the City Council was suspended in order to introduce the following:

COMMITTEE ON URBAN RESOURCES TO HOLD HEARING RE EXCESSIVE WATER AND SEWER BILLS

Couns. LANGONE and BOLLING offered the following:

Whereas, The residents of certain neighborhoods in Dorchester and Roxbury have many complaints about the excessive water and sewer bills rendered by the Boston Water and Sewer Commission; and

Whereas, Boston's Water and Sewer Commission has ignored the numerous complaints of these citizens about the water and sewer facilities and service in the neighborhood; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council's Committee on Urban Resources hold a public hearing on these matters at the Trotter School, Humboldt Avenue, Roxbury, on Tuesday, June 22, 1982, at 7 p.m.; and be it further

Resolved, That the Director of the Boston Water and Sewer Commission be summoned to attend this meeting; and be it further

Resolved, That the Committee be authorized to advertise this meeting in the local newspapers.

Referred to the Committee on Urban Resources

On motion of Councillor McCORMACK Rule 10 of the Rules of the City Council was suspended in order to introduce the following:

DEMANDING GOVERNOR AND LEGISLATURE APPROPRIATE SUFFICIENT FUNDS FOR COUNTIES, CITIES AND TOWNS FOR ESTABLISHED RENTS

Coun. McCORMACK, for all the Councillors, offered the following:

Whereas, The Court Reorganization Act of 1978 provides that the Commonwealth will pay an equitable established rent to counties, cities and towns for court facilities used by the judicial branch of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The Supreme Judicial Court has held that rents established pursuant to the Court Reorganization Act must be sufficient to cover the costs of the county, city or town for maintenance repairs, utilities and annual debt service related to court facilities; and

Whereas, The appropriations for the rental of court facilities in the state budget for fiscal years 1980, 1981, and 1982 have been grossly insufficient to cover the costs incurred by counties, cities and towns for the operation of court facilities; and

Whereas, Due to such insufficient appropriations by the Commonwealth, Suffolk County has recovered less than one-quarter of the approximately $4.8 million it expends each year for the operation of the Suffolk County Court House and the seven Suffolk County District Courts; and

Whereas, Other counties, cities and towns throughout the state have received pro tanto payments from the Commonwealth that similarly cover only a fraction of their costs of operating court facilities for the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The cities and towns of the Commonwealth and particularly the City of Boston have been forced to implement drastic cuts in municipal services necessitated by reductions in revenue that have occurred as a result of Proposition 2½; and

Whereas, The budgets currently being proposed for fiscal year 1983 by the Senate, the House of Representatives and the Governor of the Commonwealth provide for no increase in the appropriation for the payment of court facility rents to counties, cities and towns; and

Whereas, It is blatantly unfair for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to balance its budget at the expense of financially strained counties, cities and towns by failing to appropriate funds sufficient to pay the rents for court facilities to which the counties, cities and towns are legitimately entitled; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Councillors, as Commissioners for Suffolk County, demand that the Governor of the Commonwealth, the members of the Senate and the members of the House of Representatives appropriate funds sufficient to pay to the counties, cities and towns of the Commonwealth the equitably established rents to which they are entitled pursuant to the Court Reorganization Act of 1978.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

On motion of Councillor McDERMOTT Rule 10 of the Rules of the City Council was suspended in order to introduce the following:

NO. 29

MAYOR WHITE PLANS FOR BOSTON DEVELOPMENT

Mayor Kevin H. White, on June 29, outlined a development program that will dramatically expand Boston's downtown shopping district by creating a new corridor of development running from Park Plaza through Downtown Crossing to South Station.

Mayor White, in remarks delivered to the Greater Boston Real Estate Board, said, "We are proposing that a significant portion of the city's office and retail growth over the next decade be directed to a new development area that will surround Downtown Crossing."

The development program announced by Mayor White has been formulated by the Boston Redevelopment Authority, in conjunction with a consultant team headed by the Boston office of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill. The study was funded by the Urban Mass Transit Administration.

Mayor White said, "The resurgence of Boston's retail district is clearly tied to the dramatic growth of downtown office workers. The 200,000 office workers of today will increase by another 40,000 before this decade is ended. At the same time, our studies show that the Washington Street area is the shopping district of first choice for 70 percent of Boston residents.

"Now, with Park Plaza under development, with development of the Transportation Center at South Station, and with construction of Lafayette Place, we have an unparalleled opportunity to tie all this together with a long-range development program. We can clearly see the day when Boston achieves one of its longtime planning goals — the connection and integration of the Back Bay with downtown.

"But there is a reason, above and beyond physical change, for this development program. It is the creation of new jobs for Boston residents and more tax revenues to provide services — police and fire protection — for Boston's neighborhoods. In short, this is development that's tied directly to improving our neighborhoods."

BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said the plan would call for continuing improvements to the retail district, with enlarged sidewalks, tree planting, new lighting, and other pedestrian amenities that would cost an estimated $25 million. Ryan pointed out that the potential private investment envisioned in the plan would total between $400 and $600 million.

The BRA study showed that sales in the Washington Street retail area, which amounted to $375 million in 1982, could rise to $600 million by 1990 if the city-sponsored development program is implemented.

In addition to expanding the retail district south of the present "100 percent corner" at Washington and Summer Streets, the plan calls for directing mixed-use development to the underutilized Essex Street corridor.

The parcels identified for the new corridor of development include:

- Lafayette Place — a mixed-use development with 200 shops, nine restaurants, fourteen cafes, a 500-room hotel and parking for 1,000 cars. Also, a new boulevard, Avenue de Lafayette, will connect Essex and Washington Streets and provide direct access to the Lafayette Place Garage.
- 600 Washington Street and Hayward Place — Proposed as a mixed-use, retail, office and housing complex, with 180,000 square feet of retail space along Washington Street, 300,000 to 500,000 square feet of office space and sixty units of housing fronting on Essex Street.
- Parcel 31 — Block bounded by Stuart, Boylston, Washington, and Tremont Streets, to house a communications technology center with post-production facilities for video and film and teleconference and teleport link. Approximately thirty floors of office space and 200 units of housing on portion closest to the Common. The complex would include recycling of four landmark buildings, including Boylston Building, Young Men's Christian Union, Jacob Wirth's Restaurant and the Hayden Building.

- Parcel 32 — Residential development for parcel on Tremont Street, across from the Common.
- Parcel 30 — Two hundred housing units proposed along the Common and office uses on Washington Street side. Buildings within 100 feet of Common restricted to 155 feet and parking structure to be located in center of block. Also, an office building of twelve stories on Avery Street.
- Bedford Street Area — Extending east from Lafayette Place toward South Station, to include Bedford Crescent, office space of 600,000 to 900,000 square feet that would be linked to recycled Church Green building, retail to surround the Edison substation with 100 units of housing to be developed above the station. Specialty shopping and restaurant complex focused on a glass-enclosed area within a closed Bedford Street.
- Lincoln-Summer Block — Parcel closest to South Station, bordered by Lincoln, Summer, and South Streets, and surface artery. Preservation of mercantile buildings on Summer Street with office building of 400,000 to 600,000 square feet and ground-floor, retail space.

FOCUS ON HEALTH

Shortness of Breath

Short of Breath

You are short of breath if you are aware of labored, uncomfortable breathing. Anyone who is short of breath, struggles to breathe, gasps for breath.

Don't confuse shortness of breath with just rapid breathing. If you are in a hot, humid room, or you are very upset, you may breathe much faster than usual. Panting is normal in these circumstances and is not real shortness of breath.

How Long Has it Lasted?

Shortness of breath may be a sign of something wrong the first time it happens, though it may last only a few minutes. However, it is more usual for shortness of breath to come on so gradually, that you do not notice it for some time.

Only when you think back over weeks or months, do you realize that there has been a change in your breathing. That flight of stairs seems so much higher than it was a few months ago!

As soon as you realize that you are distinctly more short of breath than you used to be, see your doctor.

It Can Be Natural

Shortness of breath isn't always a sign that something is wrong. Sometimes shortness of breath is normal. For instance:

- Right after moderate exercise, if you've let yourself get badly out of condition;

- Right after setting-up exercises, mowing the lawn, shoveling snow, or any heavy exertion;

- When you hurl yourself into violent exercise — tennis, swimming — after a strictly sit-down winter. (It isn't very smart to do this, anyway.)

- When you start getting around again after serious and prolonged illness.

But . . .

Normal shortness of breath disappears after a few minutes' rest. If shortness of breath persists after resting, it may be a sign of something wrong, and you should see a doctor.

And . . .

Shortness of breath on little or no exertion is never normal, regardless of your age, your "out-of-condition" state, or your general way of life.

How About Smoking?

Do you smoke cigarettes? If you do, you endanger your health.

Experts agree that cigarette smoking causes many lung conditions, of which shortness of breath is one symptom.

Each year 350,000 Americans die prematurely from cigarette caused diseases.

It's a Signal

Shortness of breath is not a disease in itself. It is a symptom of some underlying disease. The conditions most likely to cause shortness of breath are: asthma (an abnormal responsiveness of the lungs' air passages); emphysema (in which the tissue of the lungs breaks down, holding in too much air); bronchitis (inflammation of the lung tubes); pneumonia; heart disease (with lung congestion).

Other Symptoms

Any unusual shortness of breath, by itself, may be serious. But it is especially serious when it is combined with such other symptoms as chest pain, cough, blood spitting, wheezing, quick gain or loss of weight.

What to do About Shortness of Breath

If you are short of breath, rest. There is no other specific treatment for shortness of breath in itself. Even when rest does bring relief, you should get a thorough checkup to find out what is wrong. If distress continues when you are resting, better take action right away. Except for rest, the only thing you yourself can do for shortness of breath is to see a doctor.

With the doctor's help, the underlying condition can be diagnosed and treated. Most conditions causing shortness of breath can be helped by treatment if it is begun early enough.

DORCHESTER ARSON PREVENTION REWARD

On March 10, 1982, Mr. Ronald Chamberlin and a friend were in a cell to perform a maintenance task at 77 Dudley Street, Dorchester. While there they observed a board, braced against an interior door which appeared unusual. As he observed the door, he had the feeling it was being held in position by someone. Alarmed, he shut the door and sent his friend to the police. Two males suddenly burst through the door and headed towards the exit. Ron managed to be known down and hold one suspect, who was later identified as Louis Lopez; the second suspect escaped.

Investigation revealed that there were two containers, one was a one-half gallon can of charcoal lighter fluid, and the other a one-half-gallon plastic jug, contents unknown. Later, it was analyzed and found to be a mixture of lighter fluid and another chemical.

As a result of this incident the suspect, Louis Lopez, was arrested in March of 1982, and indicted in July 1982. A trial is pending at Suffolk Superior Court for breaking and entering and arson.

Mr. Chamberlin's involvement and cooperation resulted in an indictment and the Arson Watch Reward Program is offering a $1,000 award to Mr. Chamberlin for his cooperation in the apprehension of Louis Lopez.

It pays to put the heat on arson.

MAYOR INAUGURATES CABLE PROGRAMMING IN BOSTON

Mayor Kevin H. White, on June 23, helped inaugurate local community cable programming in Boston during a special, hour-show "Live from East Boston." The cablecast from the Harborside Community School in East Boston marked the beginning of community access cablecasts in the city.

Mayor White said, "For the first time ever in our city, cable television programming is originating from one of our neighborhoods. This evening we are beginning a carefully planned adventure that will lead the city into a new age of communications."

"Cable opens up incredible new dimensions for us to communicate with each other, to exchange information and share ideas. East Boston is a start, but in the not-too-distant future all neighborhoods in this city will have this capability through local cable programming."

"Live from East Boston" was cablecast by the Boston Community Access and Programming Foundation, the non-profit corporation set up to manage community and institutional programming on Boston's cable system.

Foundation planning and outreach coordinator and producer of "Live from East Boston," Ann McIntosh said, "The residents of East Boston will be able to watch programs about East Boston produced by East Boston people and in subsequent weeks, the local access channels will be programmed every Thursday evening, with other evenings added as more programming becomes available."

At least fourteen East Boston residents served on the production crew of "Live from East Boston."

The Access and Programming Foundation has trained a total of eighty persons in video production — sixty in East Boston and twenty in Charlestown.

The Boston Community Access and Programming Foundation was formed in March, 1982, as part of the cable licensing process in Boston. As a condition for receiving the cable license, Cablevision of Boston agreed to provide the foundation with channel capacity, studios and equipment, and ongoing financial support. The foundation was charged with providing cable access to Boston residents and institutions, providing diverse and innovative community programming, and managing a public institutional network for Boston's nonprofit institutions. The foundation is governed by an eighteen-member Board of Trustees, headed by Daniel J. Finn, and a fifty-two-member Board of Overseers.

CITY COUNCIL APPROVES JOBS BILL PLAN

The Boston City Council recently approved the city administration's plan for the use of "Jobs Bill" funds totaling $5.4 million.

The Jobs Bill, signed by the President on March 24, 1983, provides additional funds to a number of existing federal programs for the explicit purpose of providing jobs for the long-term unemployed.

A major feature of the plan, presented by the city's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency, calls for a construction and job-training program for Boston residents. This program will prepare residents, including minorities and women, for employment in the building trades and facilitate their acceptance into the unions and employment on city-assisted construction sites.

NDEA Director Paul Grogan explained, "The construction and job training program underscores the city's resident-jobs policy, which mandates that contractors on city-assisted construction projects hire 50 percent Boston resident, 25 percent minorities and 10 percent women. The plan reinforces the city's effort to assure residents their share in their city's development boom. I commend the City Council for their support of the Jobs Bill programs."

Other Jobs Bill programs include:

- Rental Rehabilitation Program, offering below-market-rate financing for repairs to rental housing;

- Anchor Commercial Building Program, to redevelop key vacant or underutilized buildings in neighborhood business districts;

- Vacant Lots Program, to encourage cleanup and development of vacant, city-owned lots, while providing jobs to local residents;

- Parks Renovation, providing a matching grant to the Urban Parks and Recreation Recovery Program in order to rehabilitate stadia in East Boston, South Boston and the Fenway.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR LIBRARY

Arthur F. F. Snyder, president of the Board of Trustees, Boston Public Library, announced today that an advisory committee has been formed to help the trustees in their efforts to search for and employ a new director. Realizing that the position is one of major significance to the City of Boston and many of the surrounding communities, the trustees have asked the committee to investigate the role of the public library — its past, present, and future direction — in order that their choice will reflect the requirements of the next decade and the opening of the new century. With members of the Board of Trustees, names of those who have been asked to serve on the new Advisory Committee are: Thomas Boylston Adams; Rev. Michael Haynes; Doris Kearns-Goodwin; Philip J. McNiff; Bettina A. Norton; Paul Parks; Ithiel Pool; Rev. Spencer M. Rice; William V. Shannon; Arthur F. F. Snyder; Robert R. Spillaine; Micho F. Spring; Sam Bass Warner, Jr., Chairman; James V. Young.

LIAM M. KELLY NAMED ACTING DIRECTOR

Arthur F.F. Snyder, president of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Public Library, announced the appointment of Liam M. Kelly as acting director and librarian, effective immediately.

Mr. Kelly has been assistant director since 1974.

EDIC FINANCING EXPANDS PRINTING COMPANY

Winthrop Printing Company has begun a $1.6-million, modernization project at its 235 Old Colony Avenue location in South Boston.

The financing was provided by the Boston Local Development Corporation (BLDC) and the Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority (BIDFA). Both the BLDC and the BIDFA are affiliates of the Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Boston (EDIC/Boston), the city's industrial development agency.

Winthrop Printing, which was founded in 1925, is a commercial printer and employs 164 people. The modernization project will create twenty-one new jobs.

The company will use the financing to rehabilitate its 80,000 square-foot building and buy over $1 million worth of new equipment.

The largest portion of the financing is a $905,000 industrial revenue bond issued by BIDFA and purchased by the Bank of New England. Bank of New England provided an additional $379,000 in conventional financing. Winthrop also received a $200,000 direct loan from the BLDC. The remaining portion was provided by the company as equity.

"The attractive financial package which the EDIC put together will save us a lot over the course of this project," said Roy Orrall, vice-president of Winthrop. "Without it, we might not have been able to stay in Boston and modernize our plant."

MAYOR WHITE DEDICATES JAPANESE SCULPTURE

Mayor Kevin H. White, on July 6, dedicated a major piece of sculpture celebrating the wind in ceremonies at the New England Aquarium. The 65-foot wind sculpture, called "Echo of the Waves," was designed by the prominent Japanese sculptor Susumu Shingu in collaboration with Cambridge Seven Associates, architects of the Aquarium.

The sculpture, which is located at the Aquarium's waterfront plaza, was commissioned by Mr. and Mrs. David Bakalar and donated to the Aquarium. Construction of the project was announced by Mayor White and the Bakalars one year ago. The Bakalars were part of the Mayor's delegation to the Far East in 1982.

Mayor White thanked the Bakalars for their contribution and added that "because of our active relationships with cities across the world, and the generosity of people like Sandy and David Bakalar, Boston is blessed with many wonderful pieces of art from different cultures and history."

The Mayor, who was introduced at the ceremony by Helen B. Spaulding, chairman of the New England Aquarium's Board of Trustees, praised the sculpture as a wonderfully aesthetic addition to Boston's landscape and a symbol of the dramatic redevelopment of the waterfront. The Mayor also said that the work serves as an important reminder of the cultural cooperation between Boston and its sister city of Kyoto, Japan.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES CONTINUING VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced the Boston Election Commission's drive to increase voter registration in the city's elderly housing and the Boston Housing Authority's public housing.

The effort is the third phase in a voter registration outreach program that began May 1, 1983, in Boston's schools and public libraries.

"With district elections approaching, it is clear now more than ever that each citizen has an obligation, both to himself and the city, to register to vote," Mayor White said.

The first phase of the program, which concentrated on registering eligible students in all of Boston's public and parochial schools, added 1,953 people to the voting lists. During the second phase, which involved holding voter registration in the Boston Public Library's neighborhood branches, 1,332 citizens were registered.

"We have succeeded in registering over 10,000 people since last year," said Election Commissioner Everett Sheppard. "About 80 percent of those registered were from minority-populated neighborhoods."

"The Election Commission would like to thank Boston school authorities, parochial school administrators, and the City of Boston's librarians for their cooperation," Commissioner Sheppard continued. "We would also like to extend our thanks to Operation Big Vote for all of its help."

The fourth and final phase of the registration drive, which will focus on the city's nursing homes, will be announced late in July.

CAMP JOY OFFERS WEEKEND TRIPS

Camp Joy's Weekend Respite Program is an excellent opportunity for developmentally disabled Boston residents and participants may be eligible for several of these enjoyable and educational weekend trips.

DOG THAT DOESN'T BITE BACK

July is National Hot Dog Month . . . So start living it up this summer with the dog that doesn't bite back.

For the record, the world's largest hot dog stand is said to have been in Coney Island. So many were sold there that an alias, "coney" or "Coney Island," became widely used to describe the hot dog.

CITY COUNCIL APPROVES CDBG PACKAGE

The Boston City Council recently approved the city administration's Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) application totaling $22.9 million for Year IX (July 1, 1983 to June 30, 1984).

A major feature of the plan, presented by the city's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA), calls for a substantial retargeting of the city's housing development and improvement funds to Boston's low- and moderate-income neighborhoods. Over 50 percent of the Year IX CDBG monies will support activities aimed to address the city's pressing housing problems, particularly the reclamation of abandoned property.

NDEA Director Paul S. Grogan said, "The package put forth today targets the city's limited federal housing dollars to assist those most in need, especially minority households. The plan is comprehensive both in terms of new housing initiatives as well as the expanded support of neighborhood economic development and human services activities. I commend the Council for its action and support of these initiatives."

Features of the Year IX plan include:

- expansion of the city's Home-leading Program, thus creating new homeownership opportunities for low- and moderate-income families;
- development of manufactured housing on vacant city lots;
- reclamation of severely deteriorated properties which would otherwise be demolished;
- continued support of the Boston Housing Partnership, a demonstration program to rehabilitate 500 units of deteriorated, multi-family rental housing;
- continued support of security programs at six Boston Housing Authority developments; and
- Greater targeting of funding assistance for those most in need.

Other housing programs provide financial assistance to households in need of modest and moderate home improvements.

Further, the NDEA plan reflects the city's continued commitment to support neighborhood commercial development activities including low-interest, commercial loans to local businessmen, security patrols, and the vacant property preservation program. Additionally, CDBG funds will continue to support human service activities, including assistance to homeless individuals and the recently announced Adult Literacy Initiative.

MAYOR WHITE, SENATOR TSONGAS IN JULY FOURTH CEREMONY

Mayor Kevin H. White and U.S. Senator Paul E. Tsongas, on July 4, participated in Boston's traditional Independence Day ceremony at Faneuil Hall. Senator Tsongas delivered the Independence Day Oration.

In introducing Tsongas, Mayor White said, "He has been a friend to this city, not only in economic and legislative terms, but also because his own career has so neatly reflected Boston's own attempt to combine compassion with competence."

"Senator Tsongas sees history beyond the headlines," the Mayor continued. "Today, he takes his place in both."

As Independence Day Orator, Tsongas added his name to the list of distinguished speakers who have gone to the Faneuil Hall podium over the years on July Fourth. The list includes Josiah Quincy, Henry Cabot Lodge, Louis Brandeis, James Michael Curley, John F. Kennedy, and Archibald Cox.

The Independence Day ceremony began at 10 a.m., at City Hall Plaza, with the raising of the flag and the playing of the National Anthem.

The event continued with a parade, the placing of wreaths on patriots' graves, and a reading of the Declaration of Independence at the Old State House by Frederick A. York, III, Captain Commanding of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

Parade participants included the Charlestown Militia Company, the Bay-state Highlanders, the Wilmington Minute, Boston Mounted Police, and a Boston Fire Department vehicle.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved the amending of contracts, based on the following information:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT
Purchasing Division
Printing of Snap-out Forms, etc.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In July of 1980, your Honor approved the award of publicly advertised contracts to several companies for printing work to be done for the Printing

Plant. The printing required under these contracts is work which the Printing Plant cannot perform, such as multi-part forms, snap-out forms, etc. The total amount of these contracts for all companies, which was an estimate, did not exceed $25,000 and the term of the contract was for fiscal year 1981.

This amount was underestimated and it is now necessary to increase it in order that companies which have done printing work for the city may be paid.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to amend the various contracts by increasing the total amount for all contracts from $25,000 to $40,000.

This submission is late because the necessary documentation was not forwarded to the Purchasing Division in a timely manner.

Respectfully yours,
Peter J. Duggan,
Assistant Purchasing Agent.

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT Ambulance Repair

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I hereby request your Honor's permission to amend the department's ambulance repair multi-vendor contract, which was approved by the Mayor as of July 2, 1981, for the period July 1, 1981, through June 30, 1982, at a cost not to exceed $62,500.

This amendment shall increase the contract sum by an additional $15,000, thereby increasing the city's total liability under this contract, as so amended, to an amount not to exceed $77,500.

This amendment is necessary because the repairs to one ambulance, involved in a motor vehicle accident, cost $18,000. This unexpected expense wiped out all the cost-saving efforts made by the department to stay within the original contract amount.

In view of the above and because the cost is reasonable, I recommend approval of this amendment.

Very truly yours,
David L. Rosenbloom,
Commissioner.

NDEA Job Placement Services, etc.

Dear Mayor White:

On October 23, 1981, your Honor approved an award of a contract, without public advertising for bids, to the Massachusetts Halfway Houses, Inc., a nonprofit organization with offices at 296 Boylston Street, to provide intake assessment and job placement services to 411 ex-offenders at the Boston Employment Resource Center.

Your approval is requested to amend the contract to expand the scope of services to include funding of one, twenty-eight-week computer programming slot at the Quincy Skills Center. The contract will continue to be effective for the period October 1, 1981, through September 30, 1982, at a total cost not to exceed $78,000. This request is retroactive due to the time required to finalize the reimbursement process and reporting requirements.

As this amendment is an addition to the approved scope of services, by a contractor of proven effectiveness, no public purpose would be served by formal advertising. I therefore request approval to dispense with inviting sealed bids by advertising in the City Record, pursuant to authority granted under the City of Boston Code, St. 4, s. 5.

Sincerely,
David S. Mundel,
Director.

Interest Subsidy Program

Dear Mayor White:

In May, 1981, your Honor approved an award, without public advertising, of a contract [SC-3146(81)] to the First National Bank of Boston, a national banking association, having its principal office in Boston, for an interest subsidy program to provide small businesses in nine commercial districts with financing at lower rates and for longer terms than are usually available to undertake property improvements. The contract term is from June 1, 1981, to June 1, 1983, and at a cost not to exceed $350,000. The $350,000 consists of Community Development Block Grant funds deposited with the contractor.

Your approval is requested for various amendments to the scope of services provided by the contractor. These amendments respectively: allow for the possibility of shorter term loans if agreed upon by the contractor and the city; amend the date to be used as a basis for calculating the base rate of each loan; provide the city with the right to withdraw the subsidy for a given loan; clarify the formula for determining the amount of the subsidy deposit transfer on a facade improvement loan; alter the extent of the documentation provided by the contractor to the city (but not the extent of record-retention); and finally, alter the subsidy deposit for S.B.A. guaranteed loans. The period of performance and the total cost remain the same.

Because this is an amendment of the scope of contract services without an increase in the contract amount and under a professional services contract which has been performed satisfactorily, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
David S. Mundel,
Director.

Consultant Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On June 3, 1981, your Honor approved the award of a contract, without advertising for bids, to Ernest J. Zupancic, an individual, located at 148 State Street, c/o Charles Hilgenhurst Associates, Inc., for assistance and counseling to the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. On January 8, 1982, and April 6, 1982, your Honor approved amendments to the original contract for additional services and compensation not anticipated under the terms of the original agreement.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract in terms of compensation to provide for additional services not anticipated at the time of the execution of the contract and subsequent amendments. Under the terms of this amendment, Mr. Zupancic will continue to respond to HUD monitoring requests with reports and remedial action, assist the city during the Year VII CDBG monitoring period, develop procedures and a training program for Davis-Bacon Fair Labor Standards Act compliance, assist the city in applying for section 108 and C.D. Float loan/grantees, and complete a CDBG program statement required for Program Year VII. He will also assist the city in preparing the Year VIII submission for CDBG funds.

The cost of this amendment, which I have determined to be reasonable for the services to be provided, shall not exceed $3,120. The total cost of this contract, as amended, shall not exceed $30,000. The termination date of this contract shall remain June 30, 1982.

Mr. Zupancic is uniquely qualified to do this work because he is a former HUD employee who has been involved with the Community Development Block Grant program since its inception, and served the City of Boston for three years as an expert on HUD regulations while on loan to the city from HUD. His services have been invaluable to this program.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided and Mr. Zupancic's expertise in this unique area, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I, therefore, request approval to dispense with sealed bids by advertising in the City Record, pursuant to authority granted under the City of Boston, St. 4, s. 5.

Sincerely,
David S. Mundel,
Director.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT Removal of Tree Stumps, etc.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On February 1, 1982, your Honor approved an award of a contract, based on public advertising for bids, to Arborist Construction Company, Inc., Braintree, for removal and disposal of trees, limbs, trunks, and stumps on an emergency basis, during the period February 1, 1982, to June 30, 1982, at a cost not to exceed $36,500.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract to provide emergency tree services beyond the time set forth in the contract and to increase the total sum of monies which can be expended under the contract so that the department will have the capabilities to respond to emergency tree service requests until such time as a new contract for this type of work can be awarded and executed.

The cost of this amendment, which is effective on June 21, 1982, shall not exceed $9,000, which will be expended at the unit price bid by the contractor on his original bid proposal, and which I have determined to be reasonable. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $45,500. The period of performance shall be extended to July 31, 1982.

Because of the emergency nature of the work and the safety to homes and persons I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

The amendment to be charged to 3-31-16.

Very truly yours,
Robert R. McCoy
Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT Consulting Engineering Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on May 26, 1982, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to enter into an agreement with Philip A. Varney, Stoneham, amending a contract executed February 11, 1982, which provides for consulting engineering services for the period January 1, 1982, to June 30, 1982, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure from $13,650, to $15,750, which is a reasonable amount.

The original estimate of the time required for Mr. Varney's services has proved to be insufficient. It is therefore necessary to increase the amount of the contract by $2,100 for the additional time required by the city for the consultant's services.

Due to the provision of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may be altered only by a writing signed by all parties thereto, including the Mayor and bonding company, public advertising in this instance would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
Donald B. Manson,
Director.

Engineering Design Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on May 26, 1982, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to enter into an agreement with Clark & Slater Associates, Inc., 50 Staniford Street, amending a contract executed June 30, 1981, which provides for engineering design services for energy conservation at Boston City Hospital and Long Island Hospital, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure by $4,132.50, which is a reasonable amount.

The additional design work covers refurbishing windows at Boston City Hospital. The cost is based on a fee factor of 9.925 percent (1980 Engineering A rate) of the new estimated costs of construction of $250,000. The not-to-exceed amount of the contract is now $34,812.50 (including the original $10,000 for supplementary services).

Due to the provision of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may be altered only by a writing signed by all parties thereto, including the Mayor and bonding company, public advertising in this instance would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
Donald B. Manson,
Director.

Energy Management Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on May 26, 1982, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to enter into an agreement with Francis E. O'Brien Jr., 43 Mendum Street, Roslindale, amending a contract executed February 3, 1982, which provides for the training of municipal building operators in energy management, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure from $10,000 to $12,000, which is a reasonable amount.

The original scope of services did not anticipate the amount of work required. The additional $2,000 would allow for the continuation and completion of contract services.

Due to the provision of the law to the effect that executed existing city contracts may be altered only by a writing signed by all parties thereto, including the Mayor and bonding company, public advertising in this instance would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
Donald B. Manson,
Director.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT Various Shop Supplies

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On December 22, 1981, your Honor approved an award of a contract (based on public advertisement for bids on October 5, 1981) to Gem/Peerless Electric Supply, Division of the Westco Corporation, Somerville, for furnishing shop supplies (electrical automotive and electronic), at a cost not to exceed $10,187.25.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract in the amount of $1,500 to provide for additional shop supplies over and above the amount requested in the original contract. The total contract is amended, shall not exceed $11,687.25 — a price I deem reasonable.

Since we have advertised in the City Record and bid proposals were sent to interested vendors; and, since Gem/Peerless has agreed to hold prices stated in original bid six months after the award of the contract; it is my determination the public interest would not be served by advertising for bids at this time.

This amendment is being submitted for your approval after commencement of delivery due to the immediate need to have these materials purchased and the funds encumbered before June 30, 1982 (loc. Ed. Grant 31-C463-625-0561). At the time the original bid proposal was submitted and the contract awarded, programs and staff for this special program S.N.A.P. were in the planning stages pending approval of grant funds.

Very truly yours,

Leo J. Burke,
Business Manager.

Lamps and Light Bulbs

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On November 25, 1981, your Honor approved an award of an unadvertised contract to Gem/Peerless Electric Supply Co., Somerville, for furnishing lamps and light bulbs for the period October 20, 1981, through June 30, 1982, at a cost not to exceed $15,000.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract in the amount of $15,000 to provide for the purchase of additional lamps and light bulbs over and above the amount stated in the original contract. The total contract, as amended, shall not exceed $30,000 — a price I deem reasonable.

Since the original contract was approved with this company based on the knowledge the state had advertised for bids at a quantity higher than our needs require; and, since it was felt at that time we could benefit by the lower price quote, it is my determination the public interest would not be served by advertising for bids at this time.

This amendment is being submitted for your approval after commencement of delivery due to the immediate need of these lamps and light bulbs in the schools. At the time the original request for the award of an unadvertised contract was approved, the Chief Plant Engineer (John Doherty) anticipated greater number of unused lamps and light bulbs could be recalled from closed school buildings.

Very truly yours,

Leo J. Burke,
Business Manager.

Legal Services

On August 28, 1981, your Honor approved the award of a contract, without public advertising for bids, to Allan W. Drachman, P.C., attorney at law, 85 Devonshire Street, in the amount of $100,000, for the provision of legal services relating to collective bargaining matters for the period July 1, 1981, to June 30, 1982.

On May 20, 1982, you approved an amendment of this contract, raising the amount to $150,000.

Your authorization is now requested to amend this contract further to provide for additional services due to the unforeseen increase in labor matters resulting from budget cutbacks. The cost of this amendment shall not exceed $20,000, which the School Committee has determined to be reasonable. The total cost of this contract, as further amended, shall not exceed $170,000.

Since the services to be provided are to be both professional and confidential in nature, it is the view of the Boston School Committee that publicly advertising for bids would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Edward J. Winter,
Secretary

Servicing Typewriters

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On March 11, 1982, your Honor approved an award of a contract (based on public advertisement for bids on September 28, 1981), to Edgar H. Field, Jr., d/b/a Norfolk Office Equipment Co., Brookline, for servicing typewriters (Schedules I and V) at a cost not to exceed $10,000.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract in the amount of $15,000 to provide for additional repair services over and above the amount requested in the original contract. At the time the original contract was executed, it was impossible to determine the number of service calls we would receive during the fiscal year. The amount of $10,000 which was allowed in the budget for this service has proven to be inadequate. Most of the typewriters are located in various schools and the increase in service calls is the result of much more student use than anticipated. The total contract as amended shall not exceed $25,000, a price I deem reasonable.

Since we have advertised in the City Record, and bid proposals were sent to interested vendors; and, since they were the only bidder for the schedules that they were awarded, it is my determination the public interest would not be served by advertising for bids at this time. This amendment is being submitted for your approval after commencement of services due to the immediate need of these repairs.

Very truly yours,

Leo J. Burke,
Business Manager.

OUR CHILDREN — LIVING IN THE 21st CENTURY

The twenty-first century may seem a long way off, but it is not. We are closer to its beginning than to the beginning of World War II; even more striking, children being born now who live sixty years or more will live most of their lives in the next century.

The twenty-first century is not only real and relevant; it is far more important to our own children and grandchildren than the twentieth century.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the City of Boston Supplemental Minority Participation and Resident Section contract provision of the specifications for and the obligations of the contractor and subcontractors to take affirmative action in connection with employment practices in the performance of this contract.

Attention to All Bidders

I. Minority Business Requirements:

No bid for the award of this project will be considered acceptable unless the general contractor complies fully with the following requirements for minority business enterprise utilization.

Pursuant to the Supplemental Minority Participation section of this contract, the general contractor must give satisfactory assurance that at least 25 percent of his bid price shall be expended for minority business enterprise, if the bid is over $50,000. If the bid is under $50,000, but greater than $10,000 then the requirement is 10 percent. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term minority business enterprise means a business in which at least 51 percent of the beneficial ownership and control is held by one or more minority persons (Black, Hispanic, Asian-American, or American Indian).

Each general contractor must complete, sign, and file with his bid the Minority Business Utilization Form. The Minority Business Utilization Form shall be completed and signed by the minority business enterprise and the general contractor. Failure to submit a Minority Business Utilization Form with the bid proposal will result in the rejection of the bid.

The City of Boston Minority Business Directory lists all minority-owned businesses that have been certified as such by the City of Boston. A copy of this directory can be obtained from the Awarding Authority or the Minority Business Office, 15 Beacon Street, fifth floor, Boston MA 02108, telephone number 720-4300. If a contractor wishes to use a minority business that is not listed in the directory he must contact the Minority Business Office to obtain a copy and submit with his bid, a Minority Business Identification Statement. The dollar amount obligated to a non-certified (City of Boston) minority business will not count towards the minority business percentage requirements.

II. Workforce Requirements

During the performance of this contract, the general contractor shall agree and shall require that his subcontractors agree to the following workforce requirements (labor).

1. Minority Workforce: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 25 percent ratio of minority manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract.

2. Female Workforce: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 10 percent ratio of female employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade work on the contract.

3. Boston Residents: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 50 percent ratio of Boston resident employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract.

4. The workforce requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) above shall apply to each trade that appears on the list of "Classification and Minimum Wage Rates" as determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries under the provisions of chapter 149, section 26 through 27G, of the General Laws of Massachusetts, as amended. If you have any questions pertaining to the applicability of these requirements, please call the Compliance Office at 720-4300.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and the Housing and Urban Development Department, and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the contract documents must be paid on this project and that the contractor must ensure that employees and applicants for employment are not discriminated against because of their race, creed, color, or national origin.

Attention is called to the Executive Order Mayor Kevin H. White titled "Boston Business Preference Policy," a copy of which is available upon request. This order confers on Boston-based businesses, as defined therein, a 5 percent preference over non-Boston-based firms in cases where competitive bids are taken.

KEVIN H. WHITE
MAYOR OF BOSTON

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 75

MONDAY, JULY 25, 1983

NO. 30

MAYOR WHITE PLANS DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA TRADE CENTER

$10.6 million project includes arcade, offices in Boylston Building.

Mayor Kevin H. White recently announced plans for the development of the China Trade Center in the Boylston Building at Boylston and Washington Streets, downtown.

The $10.6-million project involves the renovation of the landmark building and conversion of the space into an arcade, retail stores, offices, and restaurant use. The shopping arcade will utilize 30,800 square feet on the first three floors. The top four floors will accommodate 61,900 square feet of office space.

"This is an exciting project that reflects both the progress being made by the Chinese community and the gains the city is making in revitalizing the entire downtown business district," Mayor White said. "The development will create about 300 construction jobs and up to 350 permanent jobs.

"This also means that an under-utilized building, which is located at a key corner of our downtown business district, will be transformed into a busy and productive complex," the Mayor added. "Many people have worked hard to move this development forward, and I would particularly like to thank and congratulate the Chinese Economic Development Council."

The site is owned by the Chinese Economic Development Council and will be developed by the Council and the Boylston Development Group, an affiliate of the Bay Group.

Construction is scheduled to begin this summer, and the projected completion date is the summer of 1984. Building plans include a full-height, seven-level atrium.

In developing the site, the Council is receiving federal help—a $2-million grant from the Federal Economic Development Agency and a $1.1-million, Urban Development Action Grant.

After taking title to the building in 1980, the Council proceeded to evict a number of adult book stores and an adult lounge. Subsequently, Wang Industries was considering the building as the site for a manufacturing facility. A feasibility study, however, concluded that the site was not suited for that type of use.

To ensure the success of the project, initial rental rates are being set at the lowest possible levels. Local, Chinese-owned businesses are being asked to consider expansion into the Chinese Trade Center.

Among those attending the announcement ceremony were Deputy Mayor Robert J. Ryan, director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority; George Pan, chairman of the Chinese Economic Development Council; Robert Yellen, head of the Bay Group; and Marcia Myers of the Boston Landmarks Commission.

MAYOR WHITE ANNOUNCES STUDENT TRAVEL PROGRAM

Mayor Kevin H. White recently announced that twenty-four Boston high school students will study and tour in Japan and China as part of Boston's participation in the international Sister City Association. The Boston/Hangzhou Friendship Association sent twelve students to Hangzhou, China, for five weeks and the Boston/Kyoto Sister City Foundation sponsored a three-week trip for twelve students to Kyoto, Japan.

In making the announcement, Mayor White praised the fund-raising efforts of Edward McCormack, chairman of the Boston/Hangzhou Association and Alford Rudnick, treasurer of the Boston/Kyoto Foundation.

"Ed McCormack and Alford Rudnick have each raised $40,000 towards the trip and they deserve our thanks for an enthusiastic and highly successful fund-raising campaign," the Mayor said. "Boston is indeed fortunate to have some of the most active Sister City associations in the world."

Mayor White added that the Sister City association network has "enriched all of our lives by bringing other cultures and life-styles to our doorsteps through lectures, art exhibits, and a variety of cultural exchanges."

Students traveling to China are living in Hangzhou University's foreign experts dormitory for three weeks and will spend the remaining two weeks of the trip touring the country. The group left Boston on July 7. Students going to Kyoto are spending their three-week program living with host families and traveling throughout Japan. They will also be hosted by the mayors of Nara and Hiroshima. Kyoto is expected to send students to Boston as part of the exchange.

Boston high schools represented in the program include English High School, East Boston High School, Boston Latin Academy, Mario Umana Technical, Brighton High School, Charlestown High School, Boston Latin School, Jeremiah E. Burke, South Boston High School, Madison Park High School, Copley Square High School, Hyde Park High School and Boston Technical High School.

CAMP REGISTRATION

The Central Branch of the Greater Boston YMCA still has openings for Day Camp at Ponkapoag Outdoor Center in the Blue Hills Reservation. Coeducational; ages six to twelve years. Call for information, brochure, and/or registration. 536-7800 ext. 147 or 148.

PARKS DEPARTMENT TO RENOVATE THREE FACILITIES

Mayor Kevin H. White announced recently that the Parks and Recreation Department has received $1.16 million in federal funds for major renovations at three recreation facilities: East Boston Recreation Facility, Columbus Park in South Boston, and Clemente Field/Lee Playground in the Fens.

The grant was funded through the Department of Interior Urban Parks and Recreation Recovery (UPARR) Program and was the third largest award in the country.

"This grant will make a tremendous impact on these heavily utilized recreation facilities and will be of great benefit to the neighborhoods they serve," Mayor White said.

The Mayor went on to express his great appreciation to Congressman J. Joseph Moakley and Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill for their aggressive action on behalf of this grant for the city.

"Speaker O'Neill and Congressman Moakley have once again shown their commitment to the City of Boston," Mayor White said. "Their efforts in obtaining these funds will help improve the quality of life for their constituents."

In East Boston, the recreation facility will undergo extensive renovations which include the refurbishment of the children's area, football field, running track, and perimeter areas.

Columbus Park in South Boston will receive a rehabilitated running track and football field, the replacement of lights with energy and cost-effective equipment, and improvement to the perimeter areas.

The Fens' Clemente Field/Lee Playground will see a reconstructed running track, refurbished ball diamonds, and renovations to the perimeter areas.

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Robert R. McCoy said, "We hope to see the work on these areas completed by September of 1984. We are extremely excited about these projects and feel they will mean a great deal to the residents who use them."

In addition to the refurbishments, the projects will bring approximately 102 jobs to the city, 53 percent of which will provide opportunities to the unemployed.

HARBORFEST A SUCCESS

Mayor Kevin H. White praised the organizations that participated in the Boston Harborfest '83 celebration. "On a weekend when families traditionally swarm to the seashores or mountains, Harborfest was an attractive alternative for Bostonians and visitors alike," the Mayor said.

Boston Harborfest '83 was a project of Boston Harborfest, Inc., in conjunction with the City of Boston, A.C. FOCUS ON HEALTH EMPHYSEMA

Emphysema is not curable, but it can be treated. Those who have it can be helped to live with it. It is a destructive disease for hundreds of thousands of Americans and their families, third among the diseases for which Social Security gives disability benefits.

Something can be done about emphysema today.

Who Gets Emphysema?

Persons with emphysema are, for the most part, males between fifty and seventy-years-old. Women get emphysema, too, but not as often as men. A very high percentage of the people who have emphysema smoke cigarettes and have been heavy smokers for many years. Frequently, they live in areas where air pollution is a constant problem.

Some people are born with a lack of a substance called alpha one antitrypsin. This makes them more likely than others to get emphysema and at an earlier age.

How It Attacks

A person with emphysema doesn't develop the disease suddenly. It comes on gradually. He has probably had several very bad colds each winter for the past few years, each accompanied by a heavy cough, and often with chronic bronchitis. The cough often persists between colds and becomes chronic.

The thing that usually brings the patient to his doctor is that he has begun to feel short of breath on exertion in morning or evening or both. He may think he has asthma or heart disease.

Causes of Emphysema

It is believed that emphysema often is a late effect of chronic infection or irritation of the bronchial tubes. These tubes, the bronchi, connect the windpipe with the lungs. The bronchi look like branches of a tree, with the branches becoming smaller and smaller until each one ends in a cluster of tiny air spaces in the lung. From these tiny spaces (alveoli) oxygen enters the blood when air is breathed in, and waste gas (carbon dioxide) is removed from the lungs by breathing out.

When the bronchi become irritated some of the airways may be obstructed trapping air in the lung beyond them. The walls of the tiny air spaces may tear for various reasons. The small blood vessels in the walls disappear. Less contact between blood and air results.

If infection or irritation continues or is repeated for a long time and the stretching and destruction of the walls of the air space goes on, the lungs as a whole may become enlarged, at the same time become less efficient in exchanging oxygen for carbon dioxide. Enlarged lungs is what gives the disease its name, emphysema (which is a Greek word meaning "inflation").

Cigarette smoking contributes to the destructive processes that end up as emphysema.

Effects of Emphysema

Emphysema may begin with only a slight morning and evening inconvenience in breathing. Next, a short walk may be enough to bring on an attack of breathlessness. It may reach a point where every breath requires a major effort.

The changes of emphysema also interfere with the passage of blood through the small blood vessels of the lung. As interference grows, the heart must work harder to pump blood. The heart may enlarge under the strain and eventually give out. This type of heart failure is often an end result of emphysema.

Treatment

Doctors can help emphysema patients live more comfortably with their disease. Different treatments, including antibiotics, help different patients at different times. Under a doctor's care, most patients can get relief from their attacks of breathlessness.

If a man's job does not require heavy physical labor, his doctor will usually say that he can continue to work. It is very important for the patient to stop smoking to help avoid further irritation and damage.

People with emphysema, with the help of breathing retraining, carefully selected exercises, and aid in keeping their lungs clear of excess fluids, can learn to make the best use of the breathing capacity they have.

Prevention

At this time, doctors do not know how to prevent emphysema. Continuing research is being conducted to find answers to many questions about this disease. But they do know that cigarette smoking is a definite cause, and that cutting out smoking can avoid damage for many who otherwise develop the disease. Controlling air pollution can also help.

Modern medicine can usually slow down the progress of emphysema if patients are treated early. It is always the doctor's immediate concern to clear up any infection or irritation of a patient's respiratory system, because these things set up a possible starting place for emphysema.

STUDENTS HONORED AT ABCD URBAN COLLEGE CEREMONY

Eighteen students received awards at the recent ABCD Urban College graduation for completing a major part of the accredited Associate Degree Program which is jointly administered by Action for Boston Community Development, Bunker Hill Community College, and Roxbury Community College. They received Certificates of Achievement indicating completion of eighteen credit hours, the halfway mark toward degrees in human services, management and early childhood education.

The Community College Program is part of ABCD's Urban College Program, which recently expanded to also include bachelor degree courses from the University of Massachusetts, and a master degree program in conjunction with the Management Division of Lesley College Graduate School.

The ceremony also heralded another significant achievement for Action for Boston Community Development. For the first time, more than 100 graduates of the ABCD/Shawmut Bank/Bank of New England/Bay State Skills Corporation Bank Training Program became eligible for college credits through Bunker Hill Community College for completing the accounting portion of their training. ABCD Executive Director Robert M. Coard remarked that portions of ABCD's other business skills training programs, such as the new ABCD/State Street Bank/PIC program, are under review for accreditation by the community college system and that, "This achievement provides a significant link between ABCD's job-training programs and our Urban College system — a link that makes higher education a reality for many members of Boston's low-income community, thereby expanding opportunities for upward mobility for many who would never have had this 'second chance.' "

ABCD's two-year-old joint public/private program with Shawmut Bank and Bank of New England trains and guarantees jobs in the banking industry to 200 low-income persons annually. The free, full-time, twenty-six-week training program offers courses in typing, accounting, business English, business math, and office calculators. Last month a similar program for thirty students was launched through a joint effort with State Street Bank and the Private Industry Council (PIC).

The Urban College Program operated by ABCD offers free, on-site, job-related college credit courses to members of the ABCD/delegate agency community and low-income residents, in conjunction with local colleges and universities. Staff, board members, program enrollees, Head Start parents, volunteers and community residents can now achieve educational goals ranging from Certificates of Achievement to master's degrees.

Faculty are on the staff of the colleges, and are also expert practitioners in their fields. Classes are scheduled days and evenings at ABCD's downtown headquarters.

ABCD Executive Director Robert M. Coard said the Urban College Program serves as a vital educational and training center for Boston's low-income residents. "The program provides a second chance for many people whose talents might otherwise be wasted forever," he said. "ABCD continues to develop higher education programs in order to provide upward mobility for those with limited opportunities. A combination of formal education and job training leads to greater opportunity for employment."

The following students received Certificates of Achievement: Early Childhood Education: Gloria Bell and Patricia Smith, Mattapan; Diane M. Crichlow, Vickie Stephenson, and Leola E. Robinson, Dorchester; Remetrious Waters, Roxbury; Barbara Reilly, East Boston; Linda Mei Ling Yee Tom, Milton; Catherine Yee-Sang Tse, Jamaica Plain; Elaine Rumble, South Boston. Human Services: Haydee Angilletta, Brighton; Cecilia Doyle, South Boston; Gail Glover, Boston; Michele Saftler, Hyde Park; Michael R. Walsh, East Boston. Management: Sandra A. Thomas, Dorchester.

ABCD, Boston's official antipoverty agency, serves low-income residents through its central office and a city-wide network of neighborhood centers.

MAYOR SWEARS IN 110 POLICE OFFICERS

Mayor Kevin H. White, on July 14 swore in 110 new police officers in ceremonies on the festival stage on City Hall Plaza. The new officers represent the largest group to join the Boston Police Department since 1970 and bring the total strength of the force to almost 1,900 uniformed personnel.

Mayor White said, "We're proud today to be adding such a large group of new recruits to the ranks of the Boston Police Department. This will enable the department to provide even greater police presence in all city neighborhoods."

"The recent reorganization of the Police Department marked the beginning of a new phase in its history, and today we embark even further into an era of increased visibility. Since reorganizing, police have become more visible and the response time to calls for service has dropped dramatically. And each of you will play a major part in bringing those services to the public that you are sworn to serve."

The new class of officers is the one hundred and thirty-first to be graduated from the Police Academy since its founding in 1930. During the past four months all of the officers received training in police procedures, law, self-defense, physical fitness, crisis intervention, defensive driving, and interpersonal relations.

The new class is comprised of ninety-five males and fifteen females. Twenty-eight of the new officers are minorities. Overall, the class was drawn from fourteen of the city's neighborhoods.

Immediately following the ceremonies, the officers were given the first assignments with the department. Each new officer will be paired with a senior officer and will be placed under the supervision of selected superior officers. For the next thirty-eight weeks the new officers will perform all of the duties of police officers as part of their in-service field training. They also will periodically return to the Police Academy for updates and reviews.

LEAVING? KEEP HOME SAFE

July is the worst month for house break-ins, according to statistics. So what can you do while you are vacationing away from home?

Here are some suggestions from the Pinkerton detective people:

Keep the house well-lighted. Use an automatic timer or electric-eye device to turn lights on and off.

Open the curtains, shades or blinds part way.

Make sure that tools, ladders and sporting equipment are locked up.

Remember to stop all deliveries and have mail held, forwarded, or picked up.

Let the police know when you're away so they can check the house.

Give a set of keys to a trusted neighbor so he or she can check up from time to time.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT Repair of Duplicating Machines

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On February 10, 1982, your Honor approved an award of a contract (based on public advertisement for bids on September 14, 1981) to A. B. Dick Co., Waltham, for furnishing maintenance and repair of duplicating machines (Schedule I — A, B, C, D), at a cost not to exceed $15,000.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract in the amount of $10,000 to provide for additional repair services over and above the amount requested in the original contract. At the time the original contract was executed, it was impossible to determine the number of service calls we would receive during the fiscal year. The amount of $15,000 which was allowed in the budget for this service has proven to be inadequate. Most of the typewriters are located in various schools and the increase in service calls is the result of much more student use than anticipated. The total contract as amended shall not exceed $25,000, a price I deem reasonable.

Since we have advertised in the City Record, and bid proposals were sent to interested vendors; and, since they were the only bidder for the schedules that they were awarded, it is my determination the public interest would not be served by advertising for bids at this time. This amendment is being submitted for your approval after commencement of services due to the immediate need of these repairs.

Very truly yours,
Leo J. Burke,
Business Manager.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT Tax Collection Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On August 4, 1981 your Honor approved award of a contract, without public advertising, to Laura Williams, an individual, located at 96 Sutherland Road, Brighton, for assistance in the collection of delinquent real estate, personal property and motor vehicle excise taxes during the period July 1, 1981, through June 30, 1982, at a cost not to exceed $6,500, at the rate of $5 per hour. This contract was subsequently amended on January 1, 1982, to provide for an increase in pay ($5.50 per hour), which was not anticipated in the terms of the original contract. This amendment did not change the total cost of the contract.

Your approval is requested to further amend this contract to provide for an increase in hours worked which was not anticipated in the terms of the original contract or subsequent amendment. Ms. Williams will be working full time at the same rate of pay ($5.50 per hour). The total cost of the contract as further amended will not exceed $7,000. The term of this contract shall remain July 1, 1981, through June 30, 1982, as originally provided.

Because of the professional nature of the serviced to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,
Lowell L. Richards, III,
Collector-Treasurer.

Parking Violations System

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On October 8, 1981, your Honor approved an award of a contract, without public advertising for bids, to Price Waterhouse, a partnership located at One Federal Street, for technical support and guidance in connection with design and implementation of front-end controls and procedures for the new administratively managed parking violations system during the period September 13, 1981, to December 31, 1981, at a cost not to exceed $35,000. The period of this contract was subsequently extended until March 15, 1982.

On June 1, 1982, your Honor approved a request to amend this contract to provide for more intensive and extensive assistance, including full-time, on-site activity of one or more employees of Price Waterhouse. The cost of this amendment, which was effective on January 1, 1982, was $75,000, which provided that the contract, as amended, would not exceed $110,000. The period of performance was also extended to April 15, 1981. The period of the contract was subsequently extended to June 30, 1982.

Your approval is requested to further amend this contract for additional and even more extensive assistance. Specifically, Price Waterhouse will perform a cash audit of all activity in the various bank accounts into which parking fine payments were deposited pursuant to activities performed by a city contractor providing collection and data processing services with respect to parking tickets. Price Waterhouse will perform an EDP (electronic data processing) audit of all magnetic master files used by the contractor providing collection and data processing services. In addition, Price Waterhouse will provide the equivalent of two to two-and-a-half full-time professional staff equivalents for the balance of the fiscal year.

The cost of the amendment will not exceed $200,000, which I have determined to be reasonable. This amendment shall be effective March 1, 1982. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $310,000. The period and other terms of the contract shall remain the same as they are at present.

Because of the high degree of familiarity of Price Waterhouse staff with the project, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose. Preparation of this award letter was delayed because of a desire, on my part, to identify completely all costs for the balance of the fiscal year.

Very truly yours,
Lowell L. Richards, III,
Collector-Treasurer.

Parking Ticket Collection Processing

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On June 12, 1981, your Honor approved an award of a contract based on public advertising for proposals to State Street Bank and Trust Company for parking ticket collection processing services during the period July 1, 1981, to June 30, 1982, at a cost not to exceed $3,525,000.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract to provide for the processing of up to 380,000 more tickets than previously anticipated, and the processing of up to 24,000 correspondence items at the rate of $2.30 per fully processed item. The cost of this amendment, which is effective on April 1, 1982, shall not exceed $644,000, which I have determined to be reasonable. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $4,169,000. All other terms of the contract shall remain the same.

Because of the unique familiarity of the contractor with the city's collection operations, and the success of the contract to date, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This award letter was delayed to insure that all costs of completion of the contract would be provided for. While this approach is out of the ordinary, it was appropriate in this case since during the past several months several additional services had been contemplated, but eventually rejected.

MAYOR OF BOSTON

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 75

MAYOR WHITE ANNOUNCES $296 MILLION BUDGET

Trim Package Reflects $23 Million in Reductions by Mayor, Council.

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced a city/county operating budget of $296 million for fiscal 1984. The figure reflects economies achieved by the City Council and Mayor, by trimming a total of $23 million from the original budget proposal submitted by the administration last April.

In announcing the new budget, Mayor White also disclosed his plan to encumber 6 percent of each department's budget. He explained that the combination of encumbered funds and budget reductions would ensure that a balanced budget be passed on to the next administration, despite revenue uncertainties in three areas (sale of parking garages, parking fines, and fire users' fees.)

"This is a balanced budget that will not jeopardize necessary city services," Mayor White said. "It is a trim, responsible budget that considers both the service needs of Boston residents and the revenue prospects for the fiscal year.

"I have used the strategy of encumbering 6 percent of each department's budget as an insurance policy against overspending, in the event that our revenues in the three uncertain areas do not come up to our expectations," the Mayor explained. "There will be a balanced budget in fiscal 1984."

The new budget was reached after the City Council trimmed almost $17 million from the proposal submitted to it by the Mayor. After the Council returned its reduced version of the budget to the Mayor, he trimmed it by an additional $6 million.

City Budget Director Dennis Morgan, noting that this is the first time in six years that the City Council returned the budget before the start of the new fiscal year, said the finely tuned fiscal package was the result of teamwork.

"Praise is in order for the City Council for the excellent and expeditious job it accomplished in helping the administration shape this budget," Morgan said. "This budget is the product of teamwork, and the end product is in strict keeping with the interests of the people of Boston."

Morgan added that the early agreement on the budget affords the city the luxury of planning. He said, however, that the specific total revenue figure will not be known immediately. Receipts from the sale of parking garages, the specific revenues collected from parking fines, and the status of the fire users' fees (still in litigation) must be determined before the city can announce what total revenues will be for fiscal '84.

He said it is expected that revenues from these areas will be much more clearly delineated before the tax bills go out in the fall.

If the revenues from these areas fall below expectations, the shortfall would be absorbed by the 6 percent encumbrance placed on all departments' budgets by Mayor White. If the revenue picture in these areas is positive, the encumbrances would be lifted.

MAYOR WHITE OUTLINES HIS "GOALS FOR BOSTON" AGENDA

Underscores success of Public-Private Partnerships.

Mayor Kevin H. White has outlined areas, including development, housing, education, and tax reform, where his administration will focus its efforts over the next six months. The Mayor also challenged business, government, and community leaders to continue working together and providing solutions to the city's toughest problems. He made these remarks before the first anniversary meeting of the Goals for Boston (GFB) program.

Mayor White said that Boston's downtown development has been critical to the economic and psychological future of the city and that this revival will continue to pay dividends for Boston's neighborhoods. But, the Mayor also emphasized that downtown and neighborhood development must grow in concert, and that the benefits of the downtown boom must continue to extend to all the neighborhoods. He challenged business, government, and community leaders to continue using partnerships to build bridges between downtown and the neighborhoods. "There is no room here for 'two Bostons,'" he said.

The Mayor re-emphasized his commitment to make housing affordable and available to all Bostonians. He lauded the Boston Housing Partnership for its efforts in developing housing for low- and moderate-income people and stressed the importance of the city's fair housing home rule petition.

Confidence in Boston's schools is building, according to the Mayor, who stated that the transition to full, local control "needs to go forward." He said that Jean McKeigue, who headed the GFB's Educational Planning Group, was instrumental "in developing a blueprint for elevating quality and maximizing choice within the system." Mayor White also said that a consensus had been reached on the issue of tax reform. According to the Mayor, "An enlarged and diversified revenue base must be created to support public services in the neighborhoods."

Mayor White challenged all members of the Goals for Boston program to pursue these issues and pledged the support and dedication of his administration.

In his remarks, the Mayor also underscored the success of Boston's many public-private partnerships and lauded the efforts of the Adult Literacy Drive, the Boston Workshop Series, the Private Industry Council, the Housing Partnership and the Boston Compact. "The pragmatism of these efforts and the early results are indisputable and impressive," he said.

Stating that such partnerships are still "fragile and embryonic," Mayor White said they remain vulnerable to shifting commitment or retrenchment, and urged all community leaders in attendance to ensure that this never happens. He added that partnerships are not only timely, but have arrived "just in time."

The GFB program, comprised of Boston's business and community leaders, is the outgrowth of a challenge — a call to active, civic leadership — made by Quincy Market developer James Rouse one year ago today.

ABCD BANK-TRAINING PROGRAM AWARDS COLLEGE CREDITS

Graduates of the ABCD/Shawmut Bank/Bank of New England training program and now eligible to receive college credits through Bunker Hill Community College.

This accreditation marks a significant achievement for ABCD and its Urban College Program. Graduates of the bank-training program participated in ABCD's June 15 Urban College graduation, where they received certificates awarding them three college credits through Bunker Hill Community College for completing the accounting portion of their training.

ABCD's Urban College Program already provides accredited college courses in human services, management, and early childhood education through Bunker Hill and Roxbury Community Colleges. In addition, the Urban College recently expanded to include bachelor degree courses from the University of Massachusetts and a master's degree program in conjunction with the Management Division of Lesley College Graduate School.

ABCD Executive Director Robert M. Coard remarked that the curriculum for other courses in ABCD's business skills training programs with Shawmut Bank and Bank of New England, as well as its courses in a new program with State Street Bank and the Private Industry Council (PIC), are under review for accreditation by the community college system. "This achievement provides a significant link between ABCD's job-training programs and our Urban College system," he said. "It's a link that will make higher education a reality for even more members of Boston's low-income community."

ABCD's two-year-old joint public/private sector program with Shawmut Bank and Bank of New England trains and guarantees jobs in the banking industry to 200 persons annually. The free, full-time, twenty-six-week training program offers courses in typing, accounting, business English, business math, and office calculators. Last month a similar program was launched for thirty students through a joint effort with State Street Bank and the Private Industry Council.

The Urban College Program operated by ABCD offers free, job-related college credit courses to members of the ABCD/delegate agency community, including low-income residents, staff, board members, program enrollees, Head Start parents, and volunteers.

Coard said the Urban College Program serves as a vital educational and training center for Boston's low-income residents. "The program provides a second chance for many people whose talents might otherwise be wasted forever," he said. "ABCD continues to develop higher education programs in order to provide upward mobility for those with limited opportunities. A combination of formal education and job training leads to greater opportunity for employment."

ABCD, Boston's official antipoverty agency, serves low-income residents through its central office and a city-wide network of neighborhood centers.

CITY TO FUND VACANT LOT RE-USE

The Boston Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA) has announced that it will provide funds to community groups interested in developing city-owned vacant lots. Through the NDEA's Vacant Land Reclamation Project, monies will be available for land re-uses, including but not limited to: small playgrounds, parks, gardens, and playing fields.

Plans for the redevelopment of these underutilized parcels will be selected through a competitive Request for Proposal process, through which a community group will select a city-owned lot in its neighborhood, prepare a proposal detailing the re-use plans for the parcel, and enter into a maintenance agreement with the city for two years of routine upkeep. The city will provide use of the lot and seed money to develop the parcel.

NDEA Director Paul S. Grogan said, "This program is an innovative, long-run approach to the problem of reusing and maintaining targeted vacant lots. It establishes a system of long-term care, while at the same time utilizing the space for a good public purpose."

Another important component of the vacant lots program cited by Mr. Grogan is the community involvement in the planning, construction, and maintenance of the improvements to these parcels. It is hoped that the community groups seeking to redevelop these vacant lots will lever commitments from both the private sector and other public financing sources.

Community groups interested in applying for the Vacant Land Reclamation Project (VLRP) may pick up copies of the Request for Proposal beginning July 20, 1983, from Ms. Cheryl Smith, VLRP Administrator, sixth floor, NDEA, 15 Beacon Street, Boston.

Proposals are due no later than 4 p.m., August 25, 1983. The VLRP grant awards will be conditioned upon the grantee meeting NDEA/HUD program requirements.

U.S. Transportation Secretary Elizabeth H. Dole has appointed MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary to a national transit advisory committee.

Known as the Section 15 Reporting System Advisory Committee, the sixteen-member panel evaluates data used by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) to profile the transit industry and to determine how to distribute millions of dollars in federal funds to over 300 transit agencies each year.

"It's crucial that we have accurate data to understand the changing needs and trends in the nation's mass transit systems," O'Leary remarked. "The comparative view these statistics offer is also helpful in determining how federal operating funds should be spent."

Section 15 of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964 calls for a comprehensive view of some 300 American transit systems to help the transit industry make informed decisions. The committee members represent local transit authorities, planning commissions, trade associations, labor organizations, state transportation departments, and academia.

In her formal announcement of his appointment, Secretary Dole told O'Leary, "I appreciate your willingness to serve in this important advisory committee."

The committee will hold its regular meetings in Washington, D.C.

T AWARDS $17 MILLION CONTRACT

The MBTA Board of Directors, on July 20, awarded a $17,144,000 contract to the Modern Continental Construction Company, Inc. of Cambridge to furnish and install rapid transit and commuter rail track for the transit authority's Southwest Corridor/Orange Line Relocation Project.

"The MBTA is pleased that construction work in the Southwest Corridor is progressing with widespread community input and support," said Board Chairman Frederick P. Salvucci. "The award of Southwest Corridor construction contracts is greatly assisting the economy of the region by providing job opportunities for local residents and work for local firms."

Work to be provided by Modern Continental under the contract consists of construction of approximately 22.5 miles of rapid transit and commuter rail track for the relocated Orange Line, Commuter Rail and Amtrak facilities being built in the Southwest Corridor, which is the largest construction project in the history of Boston.

Modern Continental will be constructing and installing direct fixation trackwork, floating slab trackwork, embedded timber tie trackwork, timber tie and ballast trackwork, a contact rail system, retraining rails, inspection pit trackwork, associated fittings and appurtenances. An access road, various walkways, platforms and grade crossings are also to be provided.

The $790-Million Southwest Corridor/Orange Line Relocation Project is scheduled for completion in early 1987.

GRANDPARENT DAYS AT SCIENCE MUSEUM

Boston's Museum of Science is doing something for that forgotten populace — the grandparents — and asking grandchildren to help.

Running from August 1 through Labor Day weekend, the museum's Grandparent Days offer treats for Nana and Grampy. If accompanied by a grandchild, one to two grandparents receive half-price admission, free coffee or tea and dessert at either the Skyline Cafeteria or Friendly Fast Serve, and a 10 percent discount in the store on any item over $5. The half-price admission is for grandparents only; kids pay regular admission.

The admission cannot be used in conjunction with discount coupons.

Most of the exhibits may be enjoyed together by the two different generations, museum officials say. From hatching chicks to the story of human birth, from Falling Feathers to demonstrations of artificial lightning, the museum presents a wide variety of subjects covering almost every field of science. New England wildlife scenes, a power boat's bridge, with weather reports given at the push of a button, a life-sized model of the Apollo capsule into which visitors may climb to hear a recorded blast-off, and a Mathematics section more glamorous than arithmetic exercises in school, are among the attractions.

The museum is open Monday through Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday evening until 10 p.m.; Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. parking is available at reasonable rates in the attached garage, or visitors may ride the T Green (Lechmere) Line to Science Park stop.

ABSENT

"Tonight," said the VIP in charge of the banquet, "I have been asked to present our guest speaker, a man who really needs no introduction. He's not here!"

U.S.S. "CONSTITUTION" OLDEST COMMISSIONED WARSHIP

On October 21, 1982, the U.S.S. "Constitution," the oldest commissioned warship in the world will observe its 185th anniversary. The great wooden ship known throughout the world as "Old Ironsides" was launched October 21, 1797. Interestingly, her sister ship, the "Constellation," is even older. However, the "Constellation" has long been out of service, is no longer seaworthy, and is not open to the public at its berth in Baltimore.

The federal government hopes eventually to restore the "Constellation" so that it may welcome visitors aboard but it will never be returned to active service, whereas the Massachusetts-based "Constitution" has been a part of the United States Navy for 185 consecutive years!

The U.S.S. "Constitution" is one of the Commonwealth's most outstanding and interesting attractions. The great ship appeared doomed to oblivion but in the 1920s thousands of Massachusetts students cheerfully contributed their pennies and the enormous task of restoration was undertaken.

The firepower of the best-known fighting ship in the world was truly awesome! On the gun deck visitors will see and touch thirty, 24-pounder, long guns. They weigh about 3 1/4 tons each and their shot can pierce 20 inches of wood at 1,000 yards. On the spar deck the ship's guns are cannonades that fire a 32-pound, solid shot out to a kill range of 400 yards. It took between two and four men to man the ship's wheel to control the direction of the majestic vessel. Its mainmast is 220 feet in length, from keel to truck. It took between seventy and seventy-five men to operate the capstan to lift the 5,300-pound anchor.

A visit to the famed frigate "Old Ironsides" is an exciting adventure for young and old alike. Those who travel to Charlestown to board the famed warship are given an interesting free pamphlet that tells all about the U.S.S. "Constitution."

Visting hours are 9:30 to 3:50 p.m. every day in the year and there is free parking just outside the naval yard gate in Charlestown.

WHAT IS GOOD?

"What is the real good?"
I ask in musing mood.
"Order," said the law court;
"Knowledge," said the school;
"Truth," said the wise man;
"Pleasure," said the fool;
"Love," said the maiden;
"Beauty," said the page;
"Freedom," said the dreamer;
"Home," said the sage;
"Fame," said the soldier;
"Equity," said the seer.
Spoke my heart fully sad:
"the answer is not here."

Then within my bosom
Softly this I heard:
"Each heart holds the secret:"

POLICE DEPARTMENT SPONSORS NEIGHBORHOOD CRIME PREVENTION EXHIBITS

Commissioner Joseph M. Jordan announced recently that the Boston Police Department will sponsor a series of neighborhood crime prevention exhibits over the next two months. Each of the exhibits will focus on the particular needs and problems of the neighborhood where it is being held and each of the exhibits will be held either on Saturday or Sunday.

In making the announcement Commissioner Jordan said, "The purpose of these exhibits is to foster better police community relations by making the community aware of all the services the department offers and by fostering the development of local crime watches and safe street programs.

"Over the past few years these programs have proven their effectiveness in working with the police to cut down crime. It is my belief that the residents of the City of Boston are tired of being victimized and are also tired of having to continually deal with the career criminal. And they have been cooperating with us as never before.

"Each of the exhibits will also attempt to impart crime prevention tips so that we can help to stop crime before it happens," the commissioner said.

At each exhibit speakers will explain the uses of the Emergency Service Rescue Truck, the SWAT Truck, the Bomb Trailer, the Special Operations Armored Vehicle and the latest model of the police cruiser, all of which will be on public display.

The departmental artist will be on hand to draw composite sketches, the Mounted Patrol will provide rides, the forensic hypnotist will give demonstrations, the Identification Unit will fingerprint anyone who wants the prints for their personal use, and the Motorcycle Drill Team will perform.

Among the other exhibits and demonstrations that will be presented by departmental units are:

- An exhibit of safety locks and alarm systems
- Demonstrations by the Anti-Burglary Task Force
- Demonstrations by the Auto Theft Squad
- CPR demonstrations by Police Academy personnel
- Demonstrations by officers of the Stop Rape Program
- Drug display
- Safety demonstrations by Officer Friendly
- Communications display showing the Boston Police radio system and the way it works

- Canine demonstrations
- Displays by the Harbor Patrol on water safety
- Scuba exhibitions
- Radar demonstrations measuring the speed of a tossed softball
- Seat belt demonstrations

Police personnel will be stationed throughout the exhibit area to answer questions. Brochures on crime prevention will be available as will information on police recruitment and the Cadet Program.

The schedule for the exhibits is as follows:

- August 13, 12-6 p.m., Allston.
- August 14, 12-6 p.m., Johnson Playground, Jamaica Plain.
- August 20, 10-3 p.m., Town Field, Fields Corner, Dorchester.
- August 21, 12-6 p.m., August Moon Festival, Beech Street, Chinatown.
- August 27, 10-4 p.m., Prudential Center.
- August 28, 12-4 p.m., Pier I, East Boston.
- September 10, 12-5 p.m., Mattapan.
- September 11, 12-5 p.m., Navy Yard, Charlestown.
- September 17, 12-6 p.m., Hyde Park.

FIRST ANNUAL SUMMERFEST ROAD RACE

Back in 1981, as part of many planned activities to celebrate the International Year of Disabled Persons, a day of sporting and artistic events was held over in Cambridge. Something special happened that day to all the people involved. It was quickly realized that this was a day when people of all abilities were able to get out and play and compete with one another in a way that helped break down standard social stereotypes that would create barriers to communication in other situations. So in 1982, the event was moved to the Esplanade and expanded a hundred-fold!

Last year, 1982, found over 50,000 people attending major sporting (sailing, canoeing, softball, track and field events, etc.) and artistic (mime, theatre, live music) events from 11 a.m. to well past 10 p.m.

This year, to add one more level of excitement, they are sponsoring the first annual Summerfest 5K Road Race. This fast, flat course begins at 71 Beacon Street at 9 a.m. on Sunday, August 14. It loops once around the Public Garden, down Beacon Street to Gloucester Street, over to and up Commonwealth Avenue, once more around the Garden with a finish just before the Arthur Fiedler Bridge. Runners will cross over the Esplanade for refreshments and prizes. Prizes include dinners-for-two at major restaurants such as the Colonnade, Bay Tower Room, Top of the Hub, Agean Fare, Sonesta Hotel, The Front Page, Den's Sea Grill, The Hyatt, Matt Garrett's Restaurant, and the Ground Round. Also, tickets to major museums and gift certificates from running stores.

Just show up on Sunday, August 14, at about 8 a.m. to pre-register for the race at 9 a.m. All events are free to the public.

THOUSANDS START JOBS THROUGH SUMMERWORKS

Thousands of Boston youth, aged fourteen to twenty-one, went to work at summer jobs throughout the city this week as SUMMERWORKS, Boston's summer youth employment program, began its operations for 1983.

The program, sponsored by the City's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA) and operated by Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD), will provide 2,662 economically disadvantaged youth with jobs and educational services for the next seven weeks.

Officiating at a ceremony held at the state's Registry of Vital Records, Paul S. Grogan, NDEA director, and Robert M. Coard, ABCD executive director, formally announced the opening of the 1983 program.

Grogan said, "The SUMMERWORKS program provides Boston youth with important opportunities for summer jobs by contributing to their personal growth and development while benefiting public and private non-profit agencies. Economically disadvantaged high school students acquire meaningful and well-structured work experience as well as a summer income. Preparing these youth for future full-time employment is essential to the sound economic growth of Boston."

"ABCD has run the summer youth employment program for the past eighteen years," Coard said. "This year, we placed more than 2,600 youths in jobs, but more than 6,500 applications were received. Youth are our future and jobs for youths should be a priority of federal, state, and local government. But 23 percent of the nation's teenage labor force is presently unemployed and joblessness among young black males reached 53.1 percent last year. Government needs to work closely with business and human services providers to improve this situation."

The young men and women in SUMMERWORKS will be working at more than 400 non-profit public and private agencies. Positions range from daycare assistants, patient escorts, clerk typists, to receptionists, and worksites include recreation facilities, museums, hospitals, daycare centers, and a wide variety of offices.

The 1983 SUMMERWORKS program features an increased emphasis on career development. Youths attend workshops to learn the basic skills of finding and keeping a job, in addition to their daily work experience.

MBTA RECEIVES $6.1 MILLION FOR TUNNEL REHABILITATION

MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary announced recently that the transit authority received a $6,143,850 grant from the federal Urban Mass Transportation Administration for tunnel rehabilitation projects.

"The grant will allow the MBTA to continue to undertake various tunnel rehabilitation projects including the modernization of ventilation shafts on the Green Line between Park Street and Haymarket and the Blue Line at Aquarium Station," said O'Leary. "Portions of MBTA subway tunnels are the oldest in the nation and as such, require attention and modernization. Although projects such as these are not generally visible to the riders of the MBTA, they are nevertheless important to the safety of the riders and the overall operation of transit service."

O'Leary said the MBTA's application for federal assistance for tunnel rehabilitation was funded in the maximum amount and it will be matched by an additional $2,047,950 in MBTA/state funds to be used for tunnel rehabilitation projects.

NEW NONSMOKERS' GUIDE TO MASSACHUSETTS AVAILABLE

Secondhand smoke contains five times as much carbon monoxide as the smoke inhaled by the smoker, warns the text of the new Nonsmokers' Guide to Massachusetts, published jointly by the the American Lung Association of Massachusetts and the Division of Preventive Medicine, Mass. Department of Public Health.

According to the two smoking prevention and education experts coordinating the project, Cindy Ferguson of the Lung Association and Nancy Lichter of the DPH, the growing interest in nonsmokers' rights prompted publication of the new fourth edition of the guide, whose printing was made possible this year by a grant from John Hancock Life Insurance Company.

The guide includes restaurants and health care facilities with non-smoking sections and smoking restrictions, insurance companies offering discounts to nonsmokers, smoking laws, facts about secondhand smoke, plus an "Express Thyself" section.

For a free copy of the new Nonsmokers' Guide to Massachusetts, call your local American Lung Association in Boston, 426-8330, or Division of Preventive Medicine, Mass. Department of Public Health.

MAYOR WHITE ANNOUNCES OPENING OF UPHAMS CORNER GENERAL STORE

Store represents major addition to Dorchester business area.

Mayor Kevin H. White, on July 20, officially announced the opening of the Uphams Corner General Store in Dorchester's Uphams Corner business district. Located in the former Kresge's Building at 780 Dudley Street, the Uphams Corner General Store is a supermarket with some department store items and provides the Uphams Corner business district with a major store to draw customers to the area on a regular basis.

The City of Boston's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA) has worked in conjunction with the Dorchester Bay Economic Development Corporation, the Mayor's Office, and the Uphams Corner Board of Trade to bring the supermarket project to completion.

Mayor White said, "This project is proof that revitalizing our commercial centers and restoring neighborhood confidence in these areas can indeed occur. With the help of government, local business and others in the private sector, more projects like this will benefit our neighborhoods."

"Today's opening reflects the optimism this city shares with the community on the future of Uphams Corner."

The total cost of the Uphams Corner General Store project is $507,000. Financing for the project was provided by loans from the NDEA's Neighborhood Commercial Development Bank and the Shawmut Bank, as well as by John White, the owner. By participating in NDEA's Neighborhood Commercial District Program, Mr. White was able to receive a $250,000 loan at two-thirds the prime interest rate, along with free technical and architectural assistance.

NDEA Director Paul S. Grogan said, "As a key anchor parcel redeveloped to provide much-needed goods and services to local residents, this project is most significant for Uphams Corner. We expect this project to act as a catalyst for further commercial revitalization in this area."

Completed NDEA Commercial District Program projects in Uphams Corner also include Angel's Fashions, the Dudley Boutique, El Dorado Furniture, and the Amos Upham Tavern, all of which have completely renovated facedes, and in some cases, new interiors. Another NDEA project under way in Uphams Corner is the Pierce Building, a major anchor parcel.

Additionally, the NDEA program has funded $240,000 in extensive capital improvements on Dudley Street. Improvements along Columbia Road are currently under way and expected to be completed this fall. Other capital improvements include a new "Strand Theatre" mural on the south wall of the theatre and renovations to the existing concrete fence surrounding the Dorchester North Burial Ground.

NEW WATER EXERCISE PROGRAM AVAILABLE TO EMPLOYEES

The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, in cooperation with the National Spa and Pool Institute (NSPI) is now offering a water exercise program designed to help employees better utilize backyard pools or public facilities as physical fitness centers.

The program, called "Aqua Dynamics," is designed to provide cardiovascular and muscular workouts by using a variety of water exercises, such as leg lifts, side benders and bobbing.

The idea behind the program is that people of all ages and levels of physical fitness can benefit from a regular exercise program in terms of better health and stress reduction.

Research shows that swimming and water exercises slim excess fat and improve the tone, strength and flexibility of muscles without jarring joints or stressing bones.

For these reasons, Aqua Dynamics is considered an "ideal activity to include in corporate fitness programs," said President's Council's Executive Director Casey Conrad.

"Those who have spent a good number of years behind a desk, and who, for a variety of reasons, don't participate in recreational sports, will find a water exercise program such as Aqua Dynamics both enjoyable, without a lot of practice or prior experience and highly beneficial," he added.

To obtain a free copy of the thirty-two-page Aqua Dynamics booklet, write to: Aqua Dynamics, The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, Washington, D.C. 20001.

MDC ASKS PUBLIC TO CONSERVE WATER DURING HOT SUMMER MONTHS

Metropolitan District Commissioner William J. Geary today asked the public to use water sparingly during the hot summer months. "With the warm weather we have been experiencing this summer we tend to forget about using water wisely," said Commissioner Geary. "This carelessness often puts a heavy demand on the system and reduces the water pressure in district areas."

In keeping with the goals outlined by the Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) during Conservation Week in June, Commissioner Geary would like every citizen in the metropolitan area to play an active role in conserving water. For example, try to use your sprinkler system as little as possible, make sure all water faucets are closed tightly when not in use, and install water-saving devices for the bathroom facilities. There are many kinds of water-saving devices available to the consumer ranging from special reduced-flow shower heads to water-thrifty shallow trap toilets.

The MDC has worked diligently to inform the public as to the current status of existing conservation measures, to involve schools in these programs and to make available the expertise acquired by the many cities and towns which have already implemented successful conservation programs.

The MDC maintains the Quabbin Reservoir in Belchertown. Quabbin is one of the largest reservoirs in the world built specifically for domestic water supply. The MDC serves 2.5 million people throughout its water district.

AGING FACTS

The poet Robert Browning looked forward to old age as a time free of illness and pain, and, 25 years before his death, he wrote, "Grow old along with me/ The best is yet to be."

But if you are like most people, you probably believe that growing old means inevitable mental decline into senility.

This is just not so. Senility — medically called dementia — is not a normal part of aging. Indeed, most people who survive into old age never experience significant memory loss, confusion, disorientation, personality changes or other symptoms of dementia.

In the past, researchers believed the primary cause of senile dementia was hardening of the arteries and subsequent reduced blood flow to the brain. Further research sheds new light on this grey area. A decrease in function of cells in the brain may be the primary cause.

For those with a confirmed diagnosis of senile dementia, there is a drug that can improve their overall mental status particularly such symptoms as loss of short-term memory, confusion and dizziness. The medication is Hydergine, believed to have a direct effect on the functioning of brain cells. When given in the early stages of the disease, Hydergine, produced by Sandoz Pharmaceuticals, can often produce a gradual improvement of brain cell function. As a result, many patients afflicted with senile dementia do not deteriorate as fast.

Many of the elderly, coping with physical problems, may feel Brownig's "the best" is too optimistic. However, as the facts show, he was more accurate than the common beliefs.

WHAT IS GOOD?

"What is the real good?"
I ask in musing mood.
"Order," said the law court;
"Knowledge," said the school;
"Truth," said the wise man;
"Pleasure," said the fool;
"Love," said the maiden;
"Beauty," said the page;
"Freedom," said the dreamer;
"Home," said the sage;
"Fame," said the soldier;
"Equity," said the seer.
Spoke my heart fully sad:
"the answer is not here."

Then within my bosom
Softly this I heard:
"Each heart holds the secret:"
"Kindness is the word."

NO. 33

MAYOR WHITE DEDICATES SHIPYARD PARK

Park will provide Charlestown residents with access to harbor.

Mayor Kevin H. White, on July 26, joined with residents of Charlestown in officially dedicating Shipyard Park, a new 4.5-acre park at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Mayor White said, "For the first time in almost two centuries the people of Charlestown have direct access to Boston Harbor. It is a handsome park. It provides dramatic vistas of the downtown skyline, and certainly shows that Boston is developing public areas that take full advantage of our unique location on one of the world's great harbors."

The park and adjacent areas, including Pier 4 and Dry Dock 2, make up 16 acres of the 100-acre Navy Yard project. The park includes landscape areas which combine a gently rolling meadow with tree-lined paths, shrubs, and flower beds. In addition, the park contains a children's play area and a granite fountain.

BRA Board Chairman Robert L. Farrell said, "The BRA planned the Navy Yard project so there would be public amenities for the residents of Charlestown. This park—as handsome as any park in the city—will contribute in a significant way to improving the quality of life in Charlestown."

BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said that the park and marina will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Ryan said, "Because construction activity is still taking place in the Navy Yard, it is in the best interest of public safety to limit use of the park."

The remainder of the park consists of the historic dry dock and Pier 4, which will have a public marina. Rest rooms and a refreshment area will also be included.

Construction of the park cost $2.4 million, of which almost $500,000 went to rebuild Pier 4 and the new public marina. The funds came from a combination of federal programs, including grants from Economic Development Administration, the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, and an Urban Development Action Grant.

The park has already received a national landscape award from the American Association of Nurserymen and a citation from Progressive Architecture Magazine.

The park has always been considered a focal point of the multi-use Charlestown Navy Yard development. In addition to residential and commercial developments, the Navy Yard will be the site for a proposed telecommunications-satellite facility proposed by Mayor White.

The park was designed by the architectural firm, Childs, Bertman, Tsechares and Cassendino in conjunction with the BRA.

FOCUS ON HEALTH

Walk intentionally

Did you know that walking is one of the best forms of exercise? Walking steps up your circulation by getting your heart to pump a little faster.

As busy as your day might be, you still have time to do some leg extending. Take part of your lunch time to walk around the block instead of spending the entire period eating or reading. Get away from the tensions of the office and take a relaxing stroll to catch the sights. Swing your arms when you walk. It helps to relieve tension.

Don't start by walking a mile or even a half-mile, if you haven't been walking much. Walk around the block or down to the local grocery store instead of using your car. Start with short distances and gradually build up your walking time. Be sure to wear a good pair of walking shoes with low heels and good support for your feet (keep your fashionable shoes at the office.) Good shoes will help you to walk farther, more comfortably.

Walking can also be a good way to help lose weight if you do enough of it. Walking at a speed of two miles per hour burns up 2.5 to 4.0 calories per minute, or 240 calories per hour. If you step up your pace to 3.5 miles per hour you could lose 360 calories per hour. At that rate, if you don't increase your food intake, you could lose 15 pounds in one year, simply by walking an hour every day.

You can make walking part of your everyday routine—even at work. If possible, use the stairs instead of the escalators or elevator in your building. Walk up the moving escalator if you are a beginner, or get off the elevator on the floor below your own (security regulations permitting) and walk up one flight of stairs.

If you take public transportation to work, allow yourself a few extra minutes to get off one stop earlier or later than normal. Then use the extra time to walk those few extra blocks to the office. If you must drive to work, park a little further away from the building. If your car goes in a parking garage, park on the higher levels of the garage and ignore the elevator—walk down the stairs.

Be an explorer. When you leave work, try a new route to your car or transportation stop. You may find some new points of interest along the way that you never knew were there.

If you go on vacation in a new city, walk around and get your bearings. Take walking tours in cities, nature walks in the country, and of course, long walks on the beach.

On weekends when you have more time, here are other ways to walk yourself to health.

When you shop, park at the far corner of the parking lot. You'll not only do some extra walking but you'll get some extra exercise when lugging those packages back to the car. Even if you don't want to buy anything you can walk around town or a mall and window shop.

Take long walks on your day off. Strolling through the park or on the beach is also a relaxing way to wind down after a hectic week. The fresh air can't be beat.

Try looking at your own neighborhood on foot. You may enjoy discovering that things look a lot different from the sidewalk than from a car. It will give you a chance to stop along the way to visit with a friend or neighbor—something you can't do if you're flying by in a car.

As you find yourself walking more, try adding some gentle hills to your route. The extra exercise that comes from climbing will help your heart and body become even stronger.

When your body becomes accustomed to walking distances, you may want to try jogging. But make sure you have the proper shoes for jogging. Regular sneakers may cause more harm than good. It is always wise to check with your doctor before embarking on a more strenuous exercise program like jogging.

Make exercise and walking a group effort. Talking with someone while you're walking can make the time pass quickly. You may find yourself looking forward to your daily walk.

Take a walk early in the morning, when everything is still quiet. It'll put you in a better mood all day. Take a walk late in the evening, and look at the stars.

Think of other ways to walk yourself to health. You can find the time if you really want to Health thyself.

Walk to be fit

Walking is an aerobic exercise. Walking consumes calories and improves circulation. It stimulates heart and lung activity sufficiently to increase the amount of oxygen delivered to body tissues. The increased supply of oxygen will allow the body to sustain higher levels of activity over a period of time without drawing upon body reserves and running out of energy.

There are three components of an aerobic exercise program: frequency, duration, intensity.

Frequency. A walking program should be done at least once every other day to build endurance, flexibility and to allow the body to adapt properly.

Duration. A walking program should be twenty to thirty minutes of continuous activity per day, maintaining the pulse rate at 60 percent to 75 percent of the maximal heart rate. This is your target heart rate zone. To get the most out of your walking program, stay within your target heart rate zone. There is no need to exceed it. Be sure to warm up and cool down, before and after exercising.

Intensity. If you are under the age of thirty-five and are in good health, you may begin a walking program within your target rate zone. If you are over thirty-five, or if you are unsure of your health, seek the advice of a physician before beginning any new exercise program.

Your target Heart Rate Zone. The intensity of a walking program is determined by establishing a target heart rate zone. The target heart rate zone is between 60 percent and 75 percent of the maximal heart rate. For the average person in good health, the maximal heart rate is determined by subtracting age in years from 220.

Count your pulse.

Determine whether or not you are staying within your target heart rate zone by learning to count your pulse. You'll need a watch that shows seconds to do this. The pulse is most easily counted at the radial artery in your wrist. Place the finger tips of the first, second and third fingers of one hand at the base of the thumb of the opposite hand, pressing lightly until the pulse is felt. Count the number of pulses in ten seconds. (Multiply the ten seconds count by six to get minute pulse rate.)

After you have walked for five minutes, stop and check your pulse. Compare the ten-second pulse count to your target heart rate zone to be sure you are within your range. At the end of your walk, count your pulse again to be sure you have not exceeded it. In two weeks time, if you follow your walking program regularly, you'll probably need to walk faster to stay within your target heart rate zone. Never walk to the intensity that you will become so out of breath, you cannot carry on a conversation while you are walking. If you have any aches or pains lasting more than a few minutes, stop and rest. If any discomfort persists consult your doctor.

Walking is a good way to make fitness an integral part of your daily life. Enjoy regular exercise by walking.

ABCD OFFERS HEALTH CAREER JOB-TRAINING PROGRAM

For the first time, Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) is offering a certification course in phlebotomy — the drawing of blood from patients for testing.

Sixteen phlebotomy trainees are learning to draw blood from patients, prepare and label medical equipment, deliver blood samples, and administer cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.

The new Phlebotomy Certificate Program is preparing students for a new health care field. Graduates of the full-time, three-month program will be able to find employment at hospitals, clinics, or community health agencies as certified phlebotomists.

The program runs this summer from May 23 to August 26. Students have daily academic instruction in health care skills development, medical terminology, and phlebotomy technology at Bunker Hill Community College, receiving eight credit hours. Guided clinical training comes from a six-week internship, thirty hours per week, at hospitals including Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston City Hospital, and Tufts New England Medical Center. The program has applied to the National Phlebotomy Association for national certification.

The sixteen students, ranging in age from eighteen to thirty-nine, receive a small stipend while in training. Applicants must be eligible for the ABCD New Careers Program, have a high school diploma or G.E.D., and complete eligibility tests. An intensive interview process sought applicants with traits such as maturity, rapport with people, and the ability to work under stressful conditions and put people at ease.

Funding for the program comes from the City of Boston's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA).

An advisory committee, made up of representatives from ABCD, Bunker Hill Community College, Brigham and Women's Hospital, PIC, Red Cross, and the Private Industry Council (PIC) designed the program.

MBTA CRIME ON THE DECREASE

Crime at the MBTA was down 11.9 percent in the first six months of 1983 compared to the same period last year, MBTA Police Chief William J. Bratton announced recently.

"This decrease in crime incidents is very encouraging. Our job now is to see that it continues," Bratton said when releasing the preliminary report, which traces Part One, or felony, crimes on the transit system.

Reported incidents for the month of June, 1983, decreased 12 percent compared to June, 1982, dropping from 178 to 157, down twenty-one incidents.

MBTA police made 422 arrests in the first six months of 1983, up 96 arrests from the previous year's six-month figure of 326, or a 29 percent overall increase.

Bratton attributed the decline to increased aggressiveness and visibility of the Authority's Police, who are using improved crime analysis to target their patrol efforts more effectively.

MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary said he expects further improvements in the months ahead as Governor Dukakis's Seven-Point Crime Package is implemented.

"Through increased coordination with local police and the addition of thirty-four officers to the MBTA Police force, we expect to continue to reduce not only the actual incidents of crime, but also riders' fear of crime," said O'Leary. He said that fear of crime has grown out of proportion to the actual number of incidents.

The report says robberies declined by 20 percent, larcenies by 11 percent, and burglaries by 21 percent. Assaults were down 4 percent and murders, down 50 percent, with two in 1982 and one in 1983. Motor vehicle thefts were up to 38 percent, and there were two reported rapes in 1983 compared to one during the first six months of 1982.

Statistics show that crime on the Orange Line was down 20.6 percent; and on the Red Line, 7.2 percent. The Blue Line saw a .02 percent increase, while reported incidents were up 24.9 percent on the Green Line.

Bratton said that lower crime rates on the Orange Line resulted from increased presence of uniformed police on that line. In response to the increase of incidents on the Green Line, which were mostly from pickpockets, MBTA Police have assigned two decoy teams to patrol the area.

"The teams have made a significant number of arrests already," Bratton said. Six "career" criminals have been arrested, and, with the cooperation of Suffolk County District Attorney Newman Flanagan's Office, all were successfully prosecuted in Boston Municipal Court. Two were immediately incarcerated while the other four are appealing for six-person jury trials.

"This cooperative effort by the District Attorney and the MBTA will target career criminals who commit the vast majority of crime on the MBTA and should result in significant reduction in crime," Bratton said.

MAYOR OFFICIALLY OPENS THE WESTIN HOTEL

Mayor Kevin H. White recently officially opened the Westin Hotel, Copley Place, at a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the hotel main entrance on the corner of Dartmouth Street and Huntington Avenue. The Westin Hotel is the first phase to open the $500-million, Copley Plaza Development.

Mayor White said, "Today we see the combined efforts of the city, Westin Hotels and Urban Investment and Development Company pay-off with the opening of a new, luxury, downtown hotel. Most important, this hotel and the entire Copley Place project will bring approximately 6,000 new jobs to the city. As the first phase of Copley Place, the Westin Hotel has done an exemplary job of hiring local residents, something we look forward to as other phases of Copley Place open in the near future."

The Westin Hotel, Copley Place represents the Seattle-based international hotel management firm's first venture in New England. The company operates hotels in thirteen countries. Its best known properties include the Plaza in New York City, and Bonaventure and Century Plaza hotels in Los Angeles.

Westin Hotel General Manager Bodo Lemke noting that bookings at the hotel were strong said, "Our early results indicate that groups which had bypassed Boston in the past are now being attracted by planned new convention facilities and our first-class hotel. We're very positive about prospects for Westin's newest hotel."

Copley Place is the largest, mixed-use development ever built in the City of Boston. Developer for the project is Urban Investment and Development Company.

T ENERGIZES HARVARD SQUARE TO DAVIS SQUARE TRACK

MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary announced that the transit authority energized track to the new Harvard Square Station on August 6. Track from Harvard to Davis Square, Somerville was energized on August 9.

"Although the public does not yet have access to the track and station areas, the energized third rail carries 600 volts of electricity, which can cause severe injury or death to anyone coming into contact with it," said O'Leary. "The track is being energized so the MBTA can begin testing trains on the track in anticipation of the opening of the new Harvard Square Station on September 6."

O'Leary said that the MBTA's $600-million, Red Line Northwest Extension Project is one of the most technically difficult and exciting transit construction projects ever undertaken in the United States. The 3.2-mile extension includes new stations at Harvard Square, Porter Square, Davis Square and Alewife. Service to Porter, Davis and Alewife is scheduled for the fall of 1984.

LOW INTEREST MORTGAGE PROGRAM REVISED

A bond sale scheduled by the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA) to provide low-interest, mortgage funds for first time homebuyers took place as rescheduled on August 11, 1983.

The interest rate on the mortgage funds and the names of lenders through which funds were available were published by the MHFA.

Before applying for the mortgage funds, borrowers must obtain a pre-numbered MHFA voucher. These are scheduled to be distributed by participating lenders starting on August 16, 1983, on a first-come, first-served basis. Voucher numbers will determine the order in which mortgage applications are processed by participating lenders. Beginning on August 18, 1983, voucher holders will have seven days from the date shown on their vouchers to submit their mortgage applications to their participating lenders. Funds are scheduled to be made available to local lenders by the MHFA on August 24, 1983.

The size of the bond issue has also been increased to provide an estimated $100 million in low-interest, mortgage funds. Of these funds, $40 million will be reserved for a new-construction, set-aside program. Of the remaining $60 million in funds, approximately $20 million will be reserved for High Priority Mortgage Loans.

Eligibility requirements for the low-interest, mortgage funds have not been changed since the program was announced in July.

PUBLIC SERVICES BILLBOARDS ON BOSTON COMMON

Commissioner Joseph M. Jordan today unveiled the first in a series of public service billboards that the Boston Police Department will be displaying in conjunction with Ackerley Communications of Massachusetts in a ceremony on Boston Common.

At the ceremony Commissioner Jordan said, "I am very appreciative of the cooperation that Ackerley Communications has extended to the Boston Police Department and believe that the collaboration of the two agencies will have a positive impact on the safety of the residents of the City of Boston.

"Over the next year, Ackerley Communications has agreed to furnish the department with approximately twenty-five billboards a month for public safety public service messages.

"The billboards will be placed in various neighborhood locations throughout the city and will deal with a number of topics including auto theft, neighborhood crime watches, neighborhood police patrols, burglary, summer safety, the police emergency number and the Harbor Patrol and water safety."

The billboard campaign is part of a departmental effort to reach out to the city's residents and elicit their support and cooperation in a number of programs that the department is undertaking. The campaign is believed to be the first of its type in the country.

In addition to the Boston Police Department effort, Ackerley has also been involved with the Boston Public Schools and School Volunteers for Boston.

NO. 34

FALSE SECURITY ALARM SYSTEM REVIEW

Comm. Jordan notes drop in false alarm figures as result of ordinance.

Commissioner Joseph M. Jordan, on July 30, released figures for the first year of implementation of the False Security Alarm Ordinance and noted a 48.3 percent drop in the number of false alarms received by the Boston Police Department since the program's inception on July 18, 1982. At the same time, the Commissioner pointed out that 624 individuals and firms have paid fines totaling $17,440. Thirty-eight fines were $100; sixty-four fines were for $50; and 522 fines were for $20.

During the fiscal year July 1, 1981, through June 30, 1982, the Police Department responded to 40,000 security alarms and averaged 113 false alarms per day. More than 98 percent of all alarms answered by the department turned out to be false alarms. At present, the department is averaging fifty-eight security alarm calls per day.

During the past fiscal year (July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983) through the anniversary of the ordinance, the department responded to 20,676 security alarms which represented a decrease of 19,324 calls over the year before.

In commenting on the reduction, Commissioner Jordan said, "I am very pleased with the success of the program and the dramatic decrease in the number of false alarms that are being received by the department. In 1982, the department expended 16,000 man hours answering false alarms and in 1983 that figure was cut to 8,320. That drop has enabled us to redeploy those resources and use them on neighborhood patrol where their visibility is a deterrent to crime.

"I am also very encouraged by the cooperation given by most security alarm owners. However, I also believe that the rapid drop in false alarms indicates that many of the false alarms received by the police in the past were due to simple negligence or to the desire for an additional police check of property," the Commissioner continued.

"Our goal over the next year," the Commissioner said, "is to reduce these false alarms even more. The department is obligated to send two officers to respond to each of them and there is little justification for the department to tie up its resources answering false alarms."

Mark Lynch, the department's Director of Management and Budget and the coordinator of the False Security Alarm Ordinance Enforcement Program, pointed out that "the department has received excellent cooperation from the owners of security alarm systems. Almost 100 percent of the fines have been paid in full and there are very few chronic repeaters. This is in sharp contrast to the situation a year ago when 52 percent of all false alarms came from locations that turned in ten or more false alarms per year.

"I attribute the success of the program to the educational program that the department conducted during the first three months of the new system," Lynch said. "During that time every alarm owner was contacted and the new regulation was thoroughly explained. Most owners appeared to be receptive and the drop in the number of false alarms has confirmed that impression."

The Security Alarm Ordinance, which was passed by the City Council in conjunction with Mayor White, gave security alarm users ninety days to make sure that their systems were working properly. Once the grace period expired, police were ordered to fine users for every false alarm beyond the second one in a calendar year according to a fixed-fee schedule.

The ordinance stipulated that a fee of $20 would be levied for the third false alarm in a calendar year; $50 for the fourth false alarm in a calendar year; and $100 for the fifth false alarm and for each subsequent false alarm. It also required the Police Commissioner to notify the owner of a security alarm system after the second false alarm and demand that it be repaired. If the Commissioner determined that the owner had not taken the proper steps to repair the alarm he was empowered to have it disconnected for a period of thirty days.

A number of studies based on the experience of other cities that had implemented a similar ordinance had indicated that Boston could have expected an initial decrease of 27 percent during the first year and a 50 percent decrease during the second year.

Revenues accruing to the department from a combination of manpower savings and fines during the first year of implementation are estimated to be $150,000.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES SUPPORT OF PLANNED CENTRAL ARTERY

Mayor Kevin H. White recently announced his support for a proposal to depress the Central Artery. He said the project would provide Boston with large-scale economic benefits and help solve one of the region's major transportation problems.

The Mayor emphasized, however, that before any such long-term project is begun he concerns of Boston's neighborhoods must be addressed and resolved. He said he was aware that there are also technical concerns that must be answered before any ground is broken.

"The enormous benefits that Boston would gain from a depressed Central Artery should give all of us all the incentive we need to work together to iron out any problems that arise — and then proceed with the job," Mayor White said. "The time has come to put the Central Artery project on the front burner. The opportunity is at hand for us to move our city a giant step forward."

Directing his focus to the economic aspects of the proposal, the Mayor said the Central Artery depression would provide residents of Boston and the area with hundreds of jobs for virtually the rest of this century.

"In addition," he continued, "downtown Boston will have some twenty additional prime acres for development once the Central Artery is depressed and covered. This will mean millions of dollars in new tax revenues that can be pumped into the neighborhoods in the form of city services."

Noting that the elevated Central Artery would be torn down after the depressed highway was in place, Mayor White said, "With the removal of an unsightly, physical barrier between downtown and the North End, the face of our central city will be greatly enhanced and unified. This is a change that all people, Bostonians and visitors alike, will warmly welcome."

The proposal also makes sense in long-range transportation terms, the Mayor said. He pointed out that the alternative to a depressed Central Artery would be the redecking of the present roadway, a $100-million project that would bottle up traffic in Boston's core for three years, and under-Artery parking would stop.

"That really doesn't make sense," Mayor White said, "because what you'd have when the work was done would be more of the same — a highway that doesn't even come close to meeting the requirements of the 1980s, not to mention the decades ahead. If we took this route, we would be condemning ourselves to a future of frustration."

The depressed Central Artery, he noted, would be widened to four lanes. This would not only allow the 60 percent of the motorists who make up the "through traffic" to get past the city more quickly, it would also improve the congested traffic situation on city streets in the Central Artery area.

Another factor the Mayor noted was that 90 percent of the funds needed to depress the Central Artery would come from the Federal Highway Administration. These funds accumulate from motorists' federal gasoline taxes.

"This is an opportunity for Boston area motorists to get their fair share of the gasoline tax money," the Mayor said. "If we don't move ahead, this money could go to one of the Sun Belt states."

Mayor White noted that the plan, Alternative 5A with design modification, includes a cross-harbor tunnel from South Boston to Logan Airport's Bird Island Flats. He said he would confer with representatives from South Boston and East Boston before making an announcement on this aspect of the plan late this month.

Last summer, the Mayor opposed a third harbor tunnel, which, under a different proposal, would have surfaced in East Boston. The new proposal was drawn up to minimize neighborhood impact and ease Central Artery congestion. Nevertheless, Mayor White said he wanted to study this aspect of the plan further and to receive more input from people in the neighborhoods.

SBA: A BARGAIN FOR AMERICAN TAXPAYERS

The Small Business Administration is celebrating its thirtieth anniversary. SBA, a small independent executive branch agency, came into existence when President Eisenhower signed the Small Business Act on July 30, 1953.

Throughout the last thirty years, Congress has assigned new and wider responsibilities to the agency, John J. McNally, Jr., director of SBA's Massachusetts office, said today.

He said that "in carrying out its basic mission of assisting, counseling and championing the causes of the nation's 13,000,000 small businesses, SBA offers financial and management assistance, helps small firms win federal procurement contracts, manages special programs to help small firms owned by minorities, women, veterans, and handicapped, and—perhaps most important—acts as an advocate for small business in and out of government."

McNally said that in the last five years alone, 15,000,000 men and women attended SBA-sponsored management training sessions around the country.

"In addition, hundreds of people either interested in going into small business and those already in business took part in management assistance seminars, workshops and other training sessions sponsored by SBA.

"Hundreds of additional men and women have been counseled, free of charge, by the area chapter of SCORE—the Service Corps of Retired Executives—ACE—the Active Corps of Executives. Also helping small business owners have been business administration students, part of a 450 university and college network of Small Business Institutes sponsored by SBA."

John McNally said these statistics "reflect the important and major role which SBA has played, and is playing, in this area." He also said the "firms and individuals assisted by SBA have created many, many jobs in this area. Taxes generated by SBA-assisted companies have far exceeded the overall taxpayer costs of running SBA. Residents of this area have a real bargain in SBA."

On a national level, SBA in its thirty years has directed about 461,000 business loans to small firms in every state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and Guam. These loans have been worth about $35.7 billion.

The agency also has made about 905,000 loans to businesses and individuals adversely affected by natural disasters. The disaster loans have been worth about $12.2 billion.

Mr. McNally said that in the last five years alone, 1.5 million men and women attended SBA-sponsored management training sessions around the country.

"On a national level as well as the local level," John McNally said, "SBA has been an important factor in keeping the nation's small businesses viable, growing and a continuing important part of the national economy. When the agency was started in 1953, there were 4,200,000 small businesses in the country; today there are 13,000,000.

"Other statistics show that a record number of Americans are starting their own businesses. The dream of being your own boss remains strong in our country."

NPS PLANS RESTORATION OF THE AFRICAN MEETING HOUSE

The National Park Service (NPS) announced initial plans for the rehabilitation of the African Meeting House, a building located at 8 Smith Court off Joy Street within the Boston African American National Historic Site on Beacon Hill. The plans include preparing specifications for contracting the installation of a new heating system and entry alarms; the stabilization, repair, or replacement of floors, stairs, balconies, and ceilings; and the installation of new restrooms. Also specifications will be prepared for the construction of an additional egress for the pulpit and the rehabilitation of the balcony, wainscoting, plaster walls, paint, wall paper, furnishings, shutters and blinds. Further specifications will be written for the development of office and exhibit space and the rehabilitation of windows, doors and light fixtures.

"The National Park Service is pleased to be able to move forward with this project in response to a million-dollar supplemental appropriation signed by the President on Saturday, July 30," stated Dorothea Powell, site manager of Boston African American National Historic Site. "Our hope is to be able to advertise a contract in the spring of 1984 and see the initial rehabilitation work completed by the end of the year," Powell said.

Built in 1806, the African Meeting House is the oldest black church in New England and operated under a cooperative agreement between the Museum of Afro-American History and the National Park Service. The site along with fifteen other historic sites on Beacon Hill is connected by the Black Heritage Trail which comprises the Boston African American National Historic Site. Established in 1980, this unit of the National Park System celebrates the history of the black community in Boston from the Revolution through the nineteenth century.

NEW POLICE EXAMINATION

Filing deadline September 9, 1983

Commissioner Joseph M. Jordan announced that the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission will hold an examination for the position of municipal police officer, including Boston, on October 1, 1983, and that the filing deadline is Friday, September 9, 1983.

In making the announcement, Commissioner Jordan said, "since the first of this year the Boston Police Department has added 130 officers to the force and will add an additional fifty officers within the next two months. Positions are becoming available because of the unusually high retirement rate. We are now seeing the World War II and Korean War veterans complete their thirty years of service with the department.

"To ensure that the department attracts a high calibre of applicant I have directed the Personnel Department to spearhead a recruitment drive and to set up a number of special recruiting teams. These teams of officers have been directed to go out into the neighborhoods of the city and actively recruit potential candidates. It is my desire to see that the residents of Boston are served by the finest police personnel anywhere in the country," the Commissioner said.

The Commissioner also pointed out that the department was also making a special effort with minority recruitment and that Black and Hispanic applicants were being encouraged.

The examination is open to all residents of Boston between the ages of nineteen and thirty-two who are high school graduates, possess a GED certificate or who have served at least three years in the armed forces and have an honorable discharge or release. Applicants also should have a valid Massachusetts driver's license.

Anyone seeking further information should contact the Boston Police Recruitment Office at Police Headquarters, 154 Berkeley Street, telephone 247-4444 or 247-4488.

ONE WOMAN, ONE VOTE

On August 26, 1920, the nineteenth amendment was officially added to the U.S. Constitution. It guaranteed women the right to vote.

But the history of the movement for women's rights in this country goes back farther than 1920.

The first Women's Rights Convention was held August 19-20, 1848, in Seneca Falls, New York, and was spearheaded by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, a young local woman. She rocked the country by offering a resolution that women be allowed to vote.

While that first Women's Rights Convention was being held in Seneca Falls, ten miles west of there, Elizabeth Blackwell had already broken into a men's domain. In 1847 she had been admitted, grudgingly, to Geneva Medical College, then part of what is now Hobart and William Smith Colleges in Geneva. Today, classrooms on the campus overlooking Seneca Lake are filled with women students as well as men, but in the 1800s, Elizabeth Blackwell was ostracized by society for her "unladylike ambitions." However, in 1849, she was graduated — America's first woman physician.

To celebrate the efforts of these women, as well as the ratification of the nineteenth amendment, Congresswomen Bella Abzug introduced a bill to designate August 26 as Women's Equality Day. The bill became Public Law 93-392 in August of 1974.

Many women in ever increasing numbers exercise that right to vote so courageously fought for by Ms. Stanton and others.

JANET GRACE AND TROPICAL TO PERFORM

The Franklin Park Festival Concert Series will have a grand finale with "hot" Brazilian jazz performed by bassoonist Janet Grace and Tropical, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., Sunday, August 28, at the Franklin Park Zoo.

The seven-piece band features the award winning Ms. Grace diversifying the bassoon from its traditional role as a symphony orchestra piece to a sensational jazz instrument, along with spectacular vocals by Mili Bermajo of Mexico. The other members include two Brazilians on the caxixi, pandeiro, surdo, and agogo; the trap drummer is from Tokyo, Japan, and the guitarist from San Francisco, California.

The concert series has been sponsored by the Metropolitan District Commission and the Boston Zoological Society with support from the Public Celebration Program of the City of Boston, and, in part, from a grant from the Boston Arts Lottery Council.

Franklin Park Zoo, in Boston, is open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., daily, and is free. The zoo is located in the 500-acre Franklin Park, and though the animal collection is limited due to renovations, the zoo features "A Bird's World," a series of naturalistic exhibits; the outdoor flight cage; waterfowl pond; and the Range, featuring hooved and horned animals. For further information about the zoo and the concert, call 442-2002.

DEPUTY MBTA POLICE CHIEF APPOINTED

MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary announced the appointment of Boston Police Lieutenant Albert J. Sweeney as deputy chief of the MBTA Police Department.

"Sweeney is a very gifted law enforcement professional with tremendous expertise in the administration and training of police officers," said O'Leary.

A thirteen-year veteran of the Boston Police Force, Sweeney served most recently as commanding officer in the Division of Training and Education where he was responsible for all training provided for the 1,800-member department.

With Boston Police, Sweeney previously served as District 4 lieutenant, Bureau of Field Services; lieutenant, Mounted Patrol Unit; sergeant, Commissioner's Staff, lieutenant/instructor, Police Academy; sergeant, Towing Enforcement; sergeant, Tactical Patrol Force; and other positions.

MBTA PARK STREET ELEVATOR REPAIRED

MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary on August 1, said that the transit authority has repaired and improved the Park Street Station elevator and is investigating additional safety measures that will prevent a recurrence of July 15th's accident.

"The sequencing of the elevator has been changed so that the elevator cab will always remain at street level when not in use," said O'Leary. "In addition, an intercom system will be installed from the elevator to the toll collector on duty."

"O'Leary said that the MBTA is considering other measures including the installation of a closed circuit television monitoring system and the implementation of a key card security system permitting the use of the elevator only by those persons holding cards which would be issued by the MBTA and social services agencies.

"MBTA employees on duty at Park Street have been ordered to frequently check the proper operation of the elevator," noted O'Leary.

"The Park Street elevator has been inspected by the MBTA and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the interlock bar which prevents the door from opening when the cab is not present is in proper working condition. The vandals went to great lengths to create the unsafe conditions on July 15.

"The MBTA is firmly committed to improving and expanding its services to handicapped persons despite the relaxation of federal requirements to provide the services. Over the past three years, the MBTA has more than doubled the service area of 'The Ride' door-to-door van service, purchased eighty-four transit buses equipped with wheelchair lifts, and is installing elevators in new stations and those undergoing modernization.

"The MBTA will continue to work together with the MBTA Special Needs Advisory Committee to give handicapped persons a direct role in the decision-making process on issues concerning their transportation needs."

O'Leary said that handicapped persons have every right to accessible public transportation that is safe and secure.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT Telecommunication Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On April 21, 1982, your Honor approved the award of a contract, without advertising, to Telecommunications Management Corporation (TMC) Wellesley Hills, for the period May 3, 1982, through June 30, 1982. This is a renewal of the original contract for the period July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983, for a sum not to exceed $32,290.

Under the terms of this extension of the contract, TMC will continue to provide telecommunication consulting services. TMC will continue to assist in-house staff members in analyzing the current and projected telecommunications needs of Boston City Hall. Services will continue to be provided in the area of network design, vendor selection, and the implementation of a new telecommunication system. This system is expected to provide for the technological needs of City Hall in the 1980s, as well as to provide the tools necessary to continue to control and reduce rising telecommunication costs.

Because TMC is uniquely qualified to perform this work, and because this contract is essentially a continuation of services, which commenced in May, 1982, public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,

Dennis J. Morgan,
Executive Secretary.

Video Terminals

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to renew a contract with American Terminal Leasing Corp., located at 712 Beacon Street.

For the previous two fiscal years American Terminal Leasing has leased to the Administrative Services Department nine DEC VT100 video display terminals at a rate of $70 per month per terminal and a maintenance charge of $17 per month per terminal, totaling $88 per month for each terminal leased. I wish to increase the number of terminals leased from nine to thirteen. The four additional terminals are necessary because of expanded operations for management analysis and data entry. American Terminal Leasing is a Boston-based firm whose service has been excellent over the last two years. Of the four companies who provided quotations two years ago their's was the lowest. Those rates remain the same today. Therefore I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $15,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the services to be received. Payment for the services associated with this contract shall be charged to account number 1-01-49-290. The term of this contract shall be from July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Sarno,
Director, Management Information Systems.

Streetlighting Consultant Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Touche Ross and Company, a partnership located at One Federal Street. The award and enforcement of this contract will further enhance our present endeavors to improve our municipal fiscal condition.

Under the terms of the contract, Touche Ross and Company will assist the city in analyzing and realizing a potential purchase and/or sale of certain streetlighting assets.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $90,000, an amount I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. Payment for services associated with this contract will be made against account number 1-01-41-29-0.

The term of this contract shall be August 16, 1982, through June 30, 1983.

Since Touche Ross and Company is uniquely qualified to perform this work because of their familiarity with municipal streetlighting assets as well as their past record of achievement in this field, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,

Dennis J. Morgan,
Executive Secretary.

Systems Consultant Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Access International, Incorporated, 208 Union Wharf, for professional services in an amount not to exceed $20,000.

Access International, Inc. will provide consulting services related to two systems which they assisted in developing for the City of Boston: Workload Tracking and the Outreach/Feedback Systems. The period of this contract will be from July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983.

Through the use of the ADMINS/11 and the documentation conventions followed up by Access in systems development, Access will minimize technical computer support and personnel costs. Because of Access' role in the design of the above systems and their high-level skills and experience with ADMINS/11, no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising this unique service. The cost of this contract has been reviewed and found to be reasonable.

This contract will be charged to account number 1-01-49-290.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Sarno,
Director, Management Information Systems.

HOW NOW . . . MEOW?

"Be mine," meowed the tomcat to the tabby he was courting, "and I would die for you."

Her whiskers bristled cunningly and she purred, "How many times?"

KEVIN H. WHITE

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 75

MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1983

NO. 35

MAYOR ANNOUNCES GARAGE SALE PROCEEDS TO NEIGHBORHOODS

Says Boston Latin School to undergo renovation, Housing Trust to be established.

Mayor Kevin H. White announced that proceeds from the sale of the Government Center parking garage will be used for the construction and rehabilitation of low- and moderate-income housing in addition to the renovation of Latin School and development of a permanent home for Latin Academy. Disposition of the garage will yield $20,500,000 and further development of the property, when completed, will provide $1 million a year in property taxes to the city.

Mayor White said, "The sale of the Government Center garage represents a continuation of our policy to ensure that the benefits of the downtown development boom are shared by our neighborhoods. This is the first of what the city expects will be a series of sales of facilities that developers will put to more productive uses.

"We will continue to tie downtown development directly to the city's ongoing efforts to increase low- and moderate-income housing in Boston. In addition, this initiative adds another important element — funds for the renovation of the Latin School, which is nearing its three hundred fiftieth anniversary, and the development of a permanent home for the Latin Academy."

In addition to the Government Center garage, the city will derive funds from the sale to developers of three other city garages. Kilby Street, Fort Hill Square, and St. James Avenue. Overall, $5 to $10 million will be raised for the construction and/or rehabilitation of low- to moderate-income housing, and $15 to $34 million for renovation and development of the Latin Schools.

As part of this plan, the city is presently establishing the Boston Housing Development Trust, which will provide capital for housing projects serving low- and moderate-income persons. The fund will be administered by the city and governed by a managing committee made up of members from the City Council, the Administration, and the Boston Housing Partnership.

Plans for the Latin School call for the renovation of the existing structure and building an addition which will include physical education facilities and other areas that will enable the school to provide programs that are currently limited or prevented by lack of facilities.

The Boston Redevelopment Authority has already voted its approval for the disposition of the Government Center garage to the development firm, Richard H. Rubin Companies of Washington, D.C. The company is currently developing a $50-million, office building on Franklin Street and has developed numerous office properties and parking facilities in Washington, D.C. and suburban Maryland.

Rubin's firm would spend approximately $15 million in improvements to the structure, including $2 million or so in landscaping areas adjacent to the structure. The development program calls for adding 153,000 square feet of office space to the garage and approximately 25,000 feet of retail space on the ground floor. The present 1,865 parking spaces in the garage would be increased to 1,884 spaces.

BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said, "This initial recommendation sets in motion a process that will generate revenues the city needs for housing and education. At the same time, we are setting forth terms and conditions that will result in new brick sidewalks, trees, and planters in and around the adjacent streets. The design guidelines we have required will insure that these improvements enhance the structure itself and will do much to upgrade pedestrian amenities in this part of downtown."

The BRA is currently considering development proposals for the three other parking garages, on Kilby Street, St. James Avenue, and Fort Hill Square.

According to estimates, gross proceeds of $35 to $60 million could be realized from the sale of the four garages. After subtracting $15 million debt service on city bonds, the city expects a net of from about $20 million to $45 million.

This announcement is the latest in a series of initiatives involving neighborhood housing for low- and moderate-income persons. Last February, the Mayor announced that the developer of the Arlington/Hadassah project (at Arlington Street and Hadassah Way in the Park Plaza project) must contribute at least $600,000 to the Boston Housing Partnership, Inc., a public-private corporation with a goal of providing more low- and moderate-income housing.

Last month, the $130 million project at Rowe's and Foster's Wharves on the Boston waterfront was tied into the production of low- and moderate-income housing in urban renewal sites throughout the city. BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said that the developers would make a lease payment of $2 million a year for the site, and that $500,000 of this amount would be used by the BRA each year to help produce affordable housing in the city.

Other initiatives include retargeting of the Community Development Block Grant program to directly address the housing needs of low- and moderate-income minority neighborhoods.

Mayor White said that the city's continuing programs to improve the affordable housing stock in the neighborhoods and to address capital improvement programs will remain in high gear. He said additional announcements on housing and neighborhood initiatives will be made over the next six months.

PROPOSALS FOR RESOURCE RECOVERY FACILITY

Public Works Commissioner Joseph F. Casazza announced that proposals for the construction and operation of a waste-to-energy plant for the disposal of Boston's solid waste have been received by the city. The deadline for submission was August 11 at 4 p.m. The city issued the original request-for-developers in April of this year.

Proposals were received from the following firms:

APCI/BFI, A joint venture of Air Products and Chemicals of Allentown, Pennsylvania, and Browning-Ferris Industries, Houston, Texas.

The Boston Resource Recovery Group, Boston, Mass.

Energy Answers Corporation, Albany, New York.

Ogden-Martin Systems, Incorporated, Rosemont, Illinois.

Signal Resco, Incorporated, Des Plaines, Illinois.

Proposals will be reviewed by a special evaluation team comprised of the Public Works Commissioner, the Deputy Mayor for fiscal affairs, and the city's Corporation Counsel. The evaluation team also includes CSI Resources, Inc. and Rackemann Sawyer and Brewster of Boston, and Government Finance Associates and Kidder Peabody & Company of New York City. CSI Resources, Inc. worked with the city to develop and implement the procurement plan.

The evaluation team met for the first time to begin analyzing the business, financial and technical aspects of all the proposals. It is expected that the team will complete its evaluation by early September. Based on the evaluation and subsequent negotiations the Public Works Commissioner will make his final recommendation to the Mayor and City Council in late October. The city expects the plant to be in commercial operation by 1986.

In making the original announcement of Boston's plans for a resource recovery facility, mayor Kevin H. White said, "It makes good environmental and economic sense to begin plans for a resource recovery plant in Boston. Instead of burying wastes in landfills, and depleting valuable land, we can use the waste to produce energy; and, over time, save in waste disposal costs.

The city expects to dispose of approximately 600 tons of residential waste per day at the facility which, depending on size, could accommodate commercial waste, too. Presently the city pays more than $5 million yearly to disposal facilities and more than $7 million to collect and transport residential waste to sites up to 50 miles away. The facility will provide twenty-years disposal service to the city.

SUNDAY HOURS AT SCIENCE MUSEUM

The Museum of Science in Boston will stay open until 7 p.m. on the next two Sundays (August 28 and September 4), giving visitors two extra hours to enjoy the numerous exhibits and live demonstrations.

There will be an extra showing at 6 p.m. of the popular lightning program, featuring the giant Van de Graaff generator which emits electrical sparks up to 15-feet long.

Museum officials said the extension of Sunday hours was prompted by the numbers of tourists and others who arrived too late in the afternoon to see more than a small portion of the museum's attractions.

$32 MILLION UNITED WAY'S '83 GOAL

The United Way's Board of Directors has set a 1983 campaign goal of $32 million, a 14.8 percent increase over the beginning "card value" of the drive. Card value is a figure established by deleting from last year's campaign result one-time-only gifts; contributions from major, individual givers who have passed away; corporate and employee gifts of organizations which have either moved or gone out of business; and known major cutbacks in personnel in firms or organizations contributing to United Way in 1982.

Major factors taken into account in setting the 1983 goal:

Rising Human Service Needs: Allocations request to provide human service for 1983 from the existing 176 United Way agencies exceeded by $4 million the amount United Way could allocate for the year. Also, applications for support in 1984 have come from thirty-three more agencies, asking for a total of $1.2 million.

Further, recent statistics confirm that human service needs continue to rise, in some cases sharply. For example, since 1979, reported cases of child abuse and neglect are up 41 percent; single parent families with children under six years of age are up 38 percent since 1970; more than 100,000 adolescents in the state are problem drinkers; and 40 percent of all mothers with children under six work outside the home.

Government Cutbacks: Although service providers do not expect major cutbacks in public funds in 1983, agencies are still feeling the effects of recent reductions in governmental spending for human services.

For example, in a recent survey of thirty-one selected United Way agencies undertaken earlier this year, it was discovered that twenty-three have sustained cutbacks or been level-funded in the amounts of their government support. The effects of cutbacks are obvious, but even level-funding, because of rising costs of services, recent inflation, and increased demand for services, has had serious effects on the ability of agencies to deliver services to those in need.

Private Sector Response: Calls for increase voluntary giving, both on the corporate and individual levels, have come from many groups within the private sector itself in the past few years, including the Business Roundtable, the Conference Board, and the President's Task Force on Private Sector Initiatives. Specifically, the President's Task Force recommended that, within the next four years (beginning in 1982), corporations and individuals double their cash contributions to non-profit organizations. Further, it recommended that corporations reassess the patterns and directions of their cash gifts and other forms of public involvement, to ensure that the most pressing human, social, and economic needs of the people are met.

Fund-Raising Potential: Although the United Way of Massachusetts Bay has registered significant gains in employee giving (now accounting for about 63 percent of all funds raised), less than 25 percent of all employed persons among United Way prospects in the Massachusetts Bay area give Fair Share.

The full Fair Share potential, for more than 700,000 employees in the 3,000 largest corporations, governmental agencies, and non-profit organizations, is nearly $60 million — almost three and one-half times the amount now being raised in employee gifts. (Fair Share giving is one hour's pay per month on an annual basis from each employed person.)

Corporate giving, now accounting for about 29 percent of funds raised, has not kept pace with recent inflation rates. An estimate of 1983 corporate requests, with no firm being asked for less than 15 percent than it gave in 1982, indicates requests totalling more the $12 million — or $4 million more than was raised last year.

Further, per capita giving to the United Way of Massachusetts Bay is nearly 50 percent below the national average of giving to United Way. Of thirty-seven United Way campaigns across the country raising $9 million or more, the United Way of Massachusetts Bay ranks thirty-fifth in per capita giving. Of the same thirty-seven United Ways, corporate giving per employee ranks twenty-fifth.

FOCUS ON SMALL BUSINESS

By John J. McNally, Jr.
District Director

Q. Is there any way I can finance the expansion of my business without having to obtain loans or outside capital?

A. One of the easiest methods of business financing is internal — allowing the business to generate its own capital. According to the accounting firm experts, there are three essential steps to internal financing:

1. Accelerating accounts-receivable collections. Failure to receive payments on time means the company faces a delay in use of those monies. On the other hand, strict credit policies and practices can scare away clients. Accountants, therefore, recommend promoting the use of cash discount policies as an incentive for on-time payments.

2. Optimizing trade credit arrangements. For both new firms and existing companies, suppliers can be an excellent source of credit. Many times, especially in an economic downturn or seasonal slump, suppliers with weak demand are eager to expand their base with new customers. One of the keys to successful credit management is the ability to pay on the last possible date without damaging credit relations. Thus, companies should consider shopping around for potential suppliers for the best credit terms.

3. Improving inventory turnover. A company cannot earn a return on idle inventory. A careful review of the ordering and stocking process can result in more efficient and less expensive management. The best criteria for examining the efficiency of a company's inventory, is its turnover rate — how long the inventory remains on hand.

A company's objective should be a high turnover.

CONSTRUCTION TRADE SKILLS REGISTRATION DRIVE

The City of Boston's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA) announces the launching of the Construction Trade Skills Bank registration drive of Boston residents skilled in construction trades.

To support the city's Resident Job Hiring Policy requiring development of city-assisted projects to hire Boston residents in 50 percent of all construction jobs, the citywide drive is registering skilled workers in the NDEA Skills Bank.

The Skills Bank will act as a ready referral source to assist developers in meeting their employment goals. It aims not to replace traditional contractor/union recruitment practices, but to supplement these practices so that developers achieve full, resident-hiring compliance.

NDEA Director Paul S. Grogan said, "Developed as part of the city's efforts to assure neighborhood residents greater access to downtown development job opportunities, the Skills Bank will be additional resource for developers and contractors, acting as an adjunct to standard construction hiring practices. We view this resource as a very positive vehicle for the city, developers and the construction industry to accomplish our mutual goal of securing jobs for our residents."

Grogan noted that currently 31 percent of the construction jobs are being awarded to Boston residents and added "we expect the percent of residents capturing these jobs to increase, due to the Skills Bank."

The drive seeks to register both employed and unemployed Boston residents with work experience in any of the construction trades. Registration forms are available by calling Gale at 720-4300.

TREES NEED WATER, TOO!

Your trees may be showing the effects of this unusually hot summer and its drought-like conditions. The Boston Parks and Recreation Department has a few tips to insure the beauty of your arborous friends, not only for this summer, but for seasons to come.

According to the city's Superintendent of Horticulture, Mike Connors, the recent rainfall has not properly penetrated the soil, resulting in a lack of moisture to the trees. The following procedure will help alleviate this problem:

- Begin by loosening the soil around the tree.
- Apply several buckets of water daily for four to five days.
- Follow through with this procedure weekly.

For more information on tree care, contact the Boston Parks and Recreation Department at 725-3405.

You can't clean up this world with soft soap; it takes grit.

ESQUIRE NECKWEAR MOVING TO DORCHESTER

Esquire, Neckwear, Inc., a seventy-one-year-old Boston tie manufacturer is moving half of its operations from downtown to a Dorchester industrial park.

On July 15, Esquire broke ground for its new building at the Alsen-Mapes Industrial Park, one of three parks owned and managed by EDIC/Boston, the city's Economic Development and Industrial Corporation.

Esquire will build a 20,400 square-foot building at the park for its Wicket, Ltd. division. Construction will take four months, and is being done by Condyne, Inc. Within three years, the building will be expanded to 40,000 square feet and Esquire will join Wicket at the park.

The $526,000 financial package for the project was assembled by EDIC. It includes:

- A $250,000 industrial revenue bond purchased by Teradyne, Inc. (Wicket's present landlord) and issued by the Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority, an affiliate of EDIC. Industrial revenue bonds generally have an interest rate of 70 to 80 percent of the prime rate, and in Esquire's case, the rate is 8 percent for 10 years.

- A $157,800 Targeted Revolving Loan from another EDIC affiliate, the Boston Local Development Corporation. This is a twenty-year loan at 6.5 percent. BLDC loans are generally 2 percent below the federal discount rate with a floor of 6.25 percent.

- Company equity of $118,000.

The financial package which EDIC put together for the company is typical of the types of loans the agency offers. All are low-interest, long-term loans for fixed assets, and in many cases, the company's down payment may be less than 10 percent of the total loan package.

"The beauty of these programs is their flexibility," said Ann E. Hoffman, deputy director for financial services. "They can be coupled with an industrial revenue bond, a conventional loan or a variety of other fixed-asset lending programs. The result is a lower interest rate and a longer repayment term than a conventional loan."

In the past three years, the Boston Local Development Corporation has assembled over $10 million in loans to twenty-two different Boston companies.

The result has been over 500 new jobs.

By 1983, the Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority had issued over $80 million in industrial revenue bonds to forty-four companies and created 3,500 new jobs.

"Smaller companies, like Esquire, have special needs, and in Boston, firms employing less than 100 people dominate the economy," said Brian F. Dacey, EDIC director. "Most of these businesses are located in the city's neighborhoods. They supply jobs for the community and help keep the neighborhoods alive."

Esquire Neckwear is a family business, which has bought out several smaller tie makers over the years, including Hewes and Potter, and Rivetz of Boston. Esquire retained the employees of those companies and is now a $5 million a year business.

Together, Esquire and Wicket employ 114 people. Seventy-two percent of its workforce are Boston residents; 74 percent are minority.

PARKS AND RECREATION EVENTS FOR THE HANDICAPPED

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department's Camp Joy program is completing a successful 1983 season. Camp Joy, the therapeutic recreation program for handicapped children and adults, was established over thirty-five years ago. It is considered to be one of the finest municipally run programs of its type in the country.

The program offered many special events throughout the summer. On July 20th, over 300 participants were invited to a private showing of Superman III. The film, which was shown at the Circle Cinema, was sponsored by Redstone Management.

The annual Camp Joy Picnic was held on July 27th. This event, which is sponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the West Roxbury Knights of Columbus Council, No. 3049, was held at the Christian Herter Park in Brighton. The event featured Ronald McDonald, the WBZ Marching Band, Sheraton Corporation's "Weathersbee the Grasshopper," members of the Boston Breakers, Nabisco's "Mr. Peanuts," and the MDC Police boat.

Banana Split Day was held on August 3rd. This event, which is sponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department, Chiquita Brands and Brighams, was a "dream come true" to many of the campers. They all had an opportunity to create and eat their own banana splits.

Additional Camp Joy events included Boston Harbor cruises, visits to the New England Aquarium and the Museum of Science, and rides on the historic Boston Swan Boats.

RIDE FOR HUNGER

On the last leg of their 38,000-mile, cross-country "Ride for Life," thirty-eight young men and women, most of them Harvard undergraduates, will be bicycling through southern New York and New England.

The trip, which began June 15 in Seattle, Washington, was organized to help raise funds for Oxfam America, an international hunger relief organization based in Boston. The riders so far have received more than $70,000 in gifts and pledges to combat world hunger.

As the riders crossed the country, they received a warm welcome in most of the towns and cities along their route. They slept in churches, community centers, schools, and private homes and were entertained at barbecues, picnics, and church suppers. The City of Omaha declared July 14th "Ride for Life Day" in honor of their arrival there and the City of Detroit presented them with keys to the city.

The group includes thirty-one Harvard students and recent graduates, two high school students, two doctors, and a Tufts University undergraduate. Two other Harvard students and a minister are accompanying the riders in a van containing clothing, food and emergency supplies. All of the participants in the ride are volunteers.

Students from the Massachusetts area participating in the Ride for Life include:

Kai Carver, Belmont; Ann Louise Iandoli, Worcester; Sophie Matisse, Cambridge; Dan Pallotta, Melrose; Mike Smart, Quincy; Tim Tangherlini, Auburn; Heather Townsend, Cambridge; Clark Warner, Cambridge; Peter Zacharia, Cambridge.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT Software Systems

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to public advertising and award a contract to ADMINIS, Inc.

of Cambridge, for the renewal of a licensing agreement of a computer software system, ADMINIS/11, to which the proposed contractor has proprietary rights. ADMINIS will provide software support services for the PDP 11/70 minicomputer. Support service will consist of special upgrading of the system as well as support of the existing software.

ADMINIS/11 has proved to be a particularly useful language and is less complicated and much simpler to use, which makes it possible for senior professionals in the particular departments to supervise the operations of their systems without prior knowledge of data processing.

The cost of this contract will not exceed $4,000 and will cover the period of July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983, and will be charged to account number 1-01-49-290.

The cost of this contract has been received and found to be reasonable. As this service is unique, and it is used in conjunction with existing equipment, no useful purpose would be served by public advertising.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Sarno,

Director, Management Information Systems.

Computer Maintenance, etc.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to the Digital Equipment Corporation, 175 Federal Street, for the field service and maintenance of the DEC PDP 11/70 minicomputer and peripheral equipment, currently being leased under a separate contract, in an amount not to exceed $30,000 for the period of July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983.

Under the terms of the contract, DEC will provide monthly preventive maintenance services as well as repair service on an as-needed basis, including parts and labor during the hours defined in the contract document.

Because Digital is the manufacturer of the equipment and is uniquely equipped to service it according to its required standards, no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising this contract. The costs have been reviewed and found to be reasonable. This contract will be charged to account number 1-01-49-290.

Sincerely,

Joseph Sarno,

Director, Management Information Systems.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Mr. Matthew M. Wilbert, 198 Green Street. The contract will be in an amount not to exceed $30,000 for the period of July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983.

The purpose of this contract is for systems analysis, programming and systems maintenance for the PDP 11/70 minicomputer located in Room 703. Mr. Wilbert will perform this work on a full-time basis, providing assistance with special reports, backup and maintenance procedures.

Mr. Wilbert has done work for this department in the past and has considerable knowledge in the maintenance and operation of the PDP 11/70 minicomputer. I have determined that the cost of this service is reasonable, therefore no useful purpose would be served by public advertising. This contract will be charged to account number 1-01-49-290.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Sarno,

Director, Management Information Systems.

Film Development, etc.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Cal Art Studio, 700 Bennington Street, East Boston, for the development of color 35MM film.

Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will (1) receive undeveloped rolls of 35MM slide film; (2) develop the film; (3) prepare 35MM glass slides for each developed frame; and (4) have completed slides ready for pickup within a four-hour period.

The contract is specially qualified because the firm has worked with City Hall departments in the past and has distinguished itself by its ability to provide consistent first-quality service on a rush basis. Because it is a Boston-based firm it is available to provide its film developing services with no shipping delay; and given its successful work relation in the past, can accurately determine our film processing needs. Therefore I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $3,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be from July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983.

This contract will be charged to account number 1-01-49-290.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Sarno,

Director, Management Information Systems.

Purchasing Division

Stationery Supplies

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Authority is requested to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Union Office Supply Company, Inc., 142 Portland Street, for the purchase of stationery supplies for the various city departments.

The city has done business with this company and found it very responsible, reliable, and it is a Boston firm, presently building an office/warehouse in Charlestown.

Under this contract, Union Office Supply Co., will also submit to the city a monthly computerized printout, listing every department expenditure for office supplies and the stationery items purchased for that month. They will also submit to the city a quarterly computerized summary listing all stationery items purchased for that quarter.

This contract will allow the supply office to carry a much smaller inventory, establish management controls and ultimately develop a much more efficient supply system for the city.

The vendor also agrees to renegotiate, after six months, the agreed cost of supplies plus 27 percent with 2 percent time of payment discount if the city is able to make payments within a reasonable period of time. The city will pay the vendor one monthly check reducing administrative cost at least 50 percent.

Permission is therefore requested to award a contract to Union Supply Company, Inc., 142 Portland Street, in an amount not to exceed $80,000, a cost I consider reasonable.

Respectfully yours,

Frank F. Chin,
Purchasing Agent.

Information Service

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Your permission is requested to award a contract, without advertising, to Product Information

Network (PIN), McGraw Hill Information Systems, N.J., for the furnishing of a product information service to the Administrative Services Department, Purchasing Division. The total amount of this contract will not exceed $3,117 and is the subscription fee for this service for fiscal year 1982.

This information service is unique to PIN and is now being used by many cities and states throughout the country. It is based in information collected by PIN from member subscribers on a large range of subjects and is published by PIN in monthly advisories or bulletins. A hot line is also available for information about specific items. During fiscal year 1982 Purchasing has been forwarding this information to the various departments. I consider this service to be a valuable management tool and reasonable in cost and because it is unique to PIN I feel that the best interests of the city would be served by immediately awarding this contract to PIN.

Through an oversight, the timely initiation of this award letter was inadvertently delayed, resulting in this late submission.

Respectfully yours,

Frank F. Chin,
Purchasing Agent.

Recording Systems

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Terry Hanley Audio Systems, Inc., a corporation located at Cambridge, for purchase and installation of four recording systems for the Hearing Rooms of the Parking Clerk Office, Room 401, City Hall.

Under the terms of the contract, Terry Hanley Audio Systems will supply and install four recording systems including cassette tape decks, cassette tapes, bulk tape eraser, etc., and a service contract that will insure the equipment will be highly maintained. Terry Hanley Audio Systems is uniquely qualified to do this work since through their free consultation they have maintained their renowned reputation to come up with the best as well as the least expensive system that will meet our needs. They are in a position to rapidly install this equipment which is critical to priorities of the Parking Clerk's functions. Staff researched recording systems (reel-to-reel and cassette) through many firms such as Lake Systems, Radio Shack, Lechmere, Audio House, Copley Camera, Berlitz and Stereo Liquidators. These firms quoted estimates of $300 minimum each for cassette recorders, $750 minimum for reel-to-reel (in addition, reel-to-reel has high maintenance and high tape costs), and/or did not have equipment available, and most importantly, could not promise delivery as the department required.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $5,214, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of the contract is work to commence March 23, 1982, and to be completed on or before June 30, 1982, with maintenance through March 31, 1982, at no additional costs to the city.

Because of the professional nature of the service to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

Frank F. Chin,
Purchasing Agent.

Gasoline

Dear Mr. Mayor:

For the past several years the city has purchased its gasoline from the Mobil Oil Corporation because of the "existing supplier" requirement under the Federal Emergency Petroleum Act which required the city to purchase gasoline from its existing suppliers at the time this act became effective. This legislation expired in 1980 and the city's gasoline requirements for fiscal year 1982 were purchased from Mobil because of unstable market conditions both here and abroad.

Market conditions are still unstable, thereby creating uncertainty as to the most advantageous way to purchase the city's annual requirements of gasoline for fiscal year 1983. The two major considerations are price and certainty of supply; also to be considered are the large number of locations, some of which require relatively small quantities of gasoline or are difficult to service because of narrow streets.

After consideration of all of the factors involved, it is my opinion that no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising for bids and that it would be in the city's best interests to award a contract to Mobil. Mobil is a major oil company and, in my judgment, can best protect the city against excessive costs and assure future deliveries. It has also satisfactorily demonstrated its ability to service the various locations by its performance in past years.

Your permission is therefore requested to award a contract, without advertising, to Mobil Oil Corporation, New York, in the estimated amount of $2,620,200, a cost I consider reasonable. Mobil's terms for payment are net fifteen days after receipt of summary billing by the using department. This estimated amount is for the purchase of approximately 2,200,000 gallons of gasoline, which will be used by the various city department during the period July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983.

The prices per gallon will be based upon tank wagon prices posted daily at Mobil's East Boston Terminal, plus State Excise Tax, presently at $.108 per gallon. Current prices are: Mobil regular at $1.083 per gallon, tank wagon price, plus excise tax; Mobil unleaded at $1.043 per gallon, tank wagon price, plus excise tax; Mobil regular at $1.063 per gallon, tank truck price, plus excise tax; Mobil unleaded at $1.023 per gallon, tank truck price, plus excise tax.

These prices reflect a discount of $.02 per gallon on large tank truck deliveries to the Public Works Department for approximately 350,000 gallons of gasoline during fiscal year 1983. This discount is available only to Public Works because it is the only department that has storage tanks that can receive a tank truck delivery at one time.

Respectfully yours,

Frank F. Chin,
Purchasing Agent.

Cooling System

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Controlled Environment Corporation (CEEC), a corporation located at 1199 Dorchester Avenue, CEEC will purchase two cooling units for the Data Processing Division's central processing unit (CPU).

Under the terms of this contract, the city will purchase the equipment necessary to provide a conducive environment for the proper functioning of the Data Processing Department computers, until such time as a study produces specifications for a permanent future cooling system. Compensation under the contract shall not exceed $13,500 and will be provided by the Administrative Services Department, 1-01-41-290. The period of this contract will be from August 6, 1982, to September 3, 1982.

As the manufacturer representative for the available cooling units, this contractor is especially qualified to provide the necessary installation services in a timely and satisfactory manner as a result of its experience and unique expertise in the area of environmental control systems. Furthermore, past inquiries have shown us that the Controlled Environmental Engineering Corporation is solely qualified to meet the immediate and urgent demands of this contract.

Due to the emergency created by insufficient cooling capacity for the city's CPU and for the reasons stipulated above and because of the reasonable cost of this computer cooling system and installation, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours, Frank F. Chin,
Purchasing Agent.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT Legal Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to John P. Gaffney, P.C., an individual, located at One Boston Place, for legal services to be performed on specialized Appellate Tax Board cases, and other related matters. Mr. Gaffney has been providing legal counsel to the Assessing Department and conferring with its appraisers and engineers regarding the forthcoming New England Telephone cases at the Appellate Tax Board.

Mr. Gaffney's noted expertise and record of prior performance demonstrate him qualified to undertake the work in question and any other major cases before the Appellate Tax Board.

Compensate under this contract shall not exceed $45,000, at a rate of $75 per hour, which I consider reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983.

Due to the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Raymond G. Torto,
Commissioner of Assessing.

The successful bidder will be required to provide insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the City of Boston Supplemental Minority Participation and Resident Section contract provision of the specifications for and the obligations of the contractor and subcontractors to take affirmative action in connection with employment practices in the performance of this contract.

Attention to All Bidders

I. Minority Business Requirements:

No bid for the award of this project will be considered acceptable unless the general contractor complies fully with the following requirements for minority business enterprise utilization.

Pursuant to the Supplemental Minority Participation section of this contract, the general contractor must give satisfactory assurance that at least 25 percent of his bid price shall be expended for minority business enterprise, if the bid is for more than $50,000. If the bid is under $50,000, but greater than $10,000, then the requirement is 10 percent. For the purposes of this paragraph, the term minority business enterprise means a business in which at least 51 percent of the beneficial ownership and control is held by one or more minority persons (Black, Hispanic, Asian-American, or American Indian).

Each general contractor must complete, sign, and file with his bid the Minority Business Utilization Form. The Minority Business Utilization Form shall be completed and signed by the minority business enterprise and the general contractor. Failure to submit a Minority Business Utilization Form with the bid proposal will result in the rejection of the bid.

The City of Boston Minority Business Directory lists all minority-owned businesses that have been certified as such by the City of Boston. A copy of this directory can be obtained from the Awarding Authority or the Minority Business Office, 15 Beacon Street, fifth floor, Boston, MA 02108, telephone number 720-4300. If a contractor wishes to use a minority business that is not listed in the directory he must contact the Minority Business Office to obtain a copy and submit with his bid, a Minority Business Identification Statement. The dollar amount obligated to a non-certified (City of Boston) minority business will not count towards the minority business percentage requirements.

II. Workforce Requirements:

During the performance of this contract, the general contractor shall agree and shall require that his subcontractors agree to the following workforce requirements (labor).

1. Minority Workforce: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 25 percent ratio of minority manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract.

2. Female Workforce: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 10 percent ratio of female employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade work on the contract.

3. Boston Residents: The contractor and its subcontractors shall maintain a not less than 50 percent ratio of Boston resident employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract.

4. The workforce requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) above shall apply to each trade that appears on the list of "Classification and Minimum Wage Rates" as determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries under the provisions of chapter 149, section 26 through 27G, of the General Laws of Massachusetts, as amended. If you have any questions pertaining to the applicability of these requirements, please call the Compliance Office at 720-4300.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and the Housing and Urban Development Department, and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the contract documents must be paid on this project and that the contractor must ensure that employees and applicants for the employment are not discriminated against because of their race, creed, color, or national origin.

Attention is called to the Executive Order of Mayor Kevin H. White titled "Boston Business Preference Policy," a copy of which is available upon request. This order confers on Boston-based businesses, as defined therein, a 5 percent preference over non-Boston-based firms in cases where competitive bids are taken.

The Inspectional Services Commissioner is allowing a thirty-day period to complete the demolition and site clearance of these buildings starting with his signature on contract.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest to do so.
